Pretty Winter Wedding at Presbyterian Church Unites Popular Local Couple

Courtesy Clark's Studio

A pretty winter wedding with four tall baskets of white stock and tapers in candelabra decorating the church was that of Miss Rosemary Westfall to Wallace W. Morelock, Sunday, February 26, at two o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ray Westfall of Green City, Missouri, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cley Morelock of Cottage Grove. White satin bows marked the ends of the pews. The Rev. D. Hugh Peniston read the double ring ceremony. Preceding the ceremony Miss Abigail Trask, cousin of the bridegroom, played organ music, including "O Promise Me," "Because" and "I Love You Truly" and the traditional wedding marches. The wedding date was also the 51st birthday anniversary of the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Eva Holderman.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Glen Westfall. Her dress was ballerina length and made of white embroidered marquisette over pale blue taffeta and had a Peter Pan collar and cap sleeves. Her shoes were white satin ballerina slippers. A seed pearl headress held her fingertip veil in place. Her bouquet was of pink roses, freesia and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Diane Morelock, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, in a pink satin gown with plum velvet trim, and ballerina-length. She carried a bouquet of pink tulips.

B. Shirley of Drain acted as best man, and ushers were Kenneth Westfall, brother of the bride, and William Boyce. The ushers were also tapers.

Mrs. Glen Westfall, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a light blue suit with navy accessories, and the bridegroom's mother chose a beige suit and brown and taupe accessories. Both wore corsages of lavender orchids.

Members of Circle Three of the Presbyterian church were hosts at the reception held in the church parlor. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, and encircled at the base with tiny pink roses and maidenhair fern. Pink roses and fern also decorated the table, and baskets of pussywillows and laurel were about the room. Mrs. Eva Holderman, grandmother of the bridegroom, poured the coffee, assisted by Mrs. Harvey Holderman of Bend, aunt of the bridegroom. Miss Mae Malcolm presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Bert Trask, cousin of the bridegroom, cut the cake. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. Roy Short and Mrs. Sam Veatch, all cousins of the groom. Miss Mae Malcolm had the guest book, and Mrs. William Boyce and Miss Laura Porter were in charge of the gifts.

Miss Laura Porter caught the bride's bouquet as the couple were leaving for a wedding trip to California, Nevada and Idaho. Her going away outfit was a beige gabardine suit with navy blue accessories and her orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They are now at home in the Harpole apartments.

The bride graduated from the Green City, Missouri high school and the bridegroom from the local union high school. She is cashier at the J. C. Penney Store and Mr. Morelock attended O.S.C. and is now associated with his father at the local theatres.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Holderman of Bend, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, Miss Pat Scott and Miss Laura Porter, also of Bend.
