Realty Views

By Geo. Marksbury

Have you ever considered moving to the "new frontier?" That doesn't involve hitching up an ox team to a covered wagon. It merely means buying a small acreage at the edge of town. For national magazines are featuring life on an acreage as the "new frontier."

"Frontier" life now is no longer rugged. It is pleasant, invigorating, and comfortable. Many tracts have all modern conveniences. And a large number are located on paved or gravelled roads.

But like the Western frontier of old, an acreage offers endless possibilities for development. For many it is the opportunity to raise luscious berries. Others prefer to grow vegetable crops — tomatoes, corn, potatoes, radishes, lettuce, cabbage. Some produce melons. Still others have a nice orchard or grove. Whatever they grow, the grocery bill goes down and an extra income may develop.

A large number keep most of the ground in pasture for dairy cows, or beef stock. And many raise poultry — chickens, turkeys, etc., or get extra money from eggs.

All of these things — and MORE are possible on an acreage.

Recapture the pioneer spirit! Let us show you the "new frontier."

We Shelter the Homeless

$1000 BUYS VETERANS EQUITY—In a cozy 2 bedroom home. It's located in a restricted district. The combination living room and dinette is larger than average, has hardwood floor, fireplace and oil floor furnace, conveniently arranged modern kitchen, tub bath, large garage with concrete floor and driveway, total price $5950.

A KEG OF NAILS — Some paint, a few boards, and lots of elbow grease, will turn this three bedroom old hull into a nice little profit. Structurally, it's SOUND. It's also a SOUND investment.

HAS M-L LEFT YET?—If mother-in-law has left, then good; list your 2 bedroom house with us for quick sale and move into this 1 bedroom lovenest. You young people are due for a treat AND THIS IS IT.

4 BED ROOM SUBURBAN — This would be a home of fond memories. A place where you could vacation in your own back yard. The living room with its pleasant evenings before the fireplace, the spacious kitchen and dinette, the bedrooms are just right with cross ventilation. The bath room is centrally located. Close to transportation to schools. Lovely shrubs and flowers. Asking price $12,600, attractive terms.

$500 DOWN — That's all it takes, folks, to move you into YOUR OWN HOME: A 2 bedroom job you'll be proud to own. There's plenty of ground to grow a garden and there is fruit and nuts galore. Yes, you will be surprised at what you get for what you pay.
