

CULP CREEK

Mrs. R. R. Groat, Reporter

The school board met Monday night with 45 present. Sid Bates, county school representative of Lane county, was present to answer questions asked. It was voted to close the gym at night until further notice.

The Culp Creek Sewing club met Wednesday afternoon with Florence Eriksen. Those present were: Mesdames Ruth Wineinger, Evelyn Whitman, Vi Walters, Terry Hewes, Peggy Groat, Leona Garret and Isabelle Kendrick.

Mrs. Evelyn Whitman is still under the doctor's care, making several trips to Eugene for X-rays and tests.

Chet Colson made a business trip to Portland Monday and was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Vi Walters, as far as Independence, where she visited her brother, Frank Coon.

Warren Cooper nearly severed his big toe last week while working in the woods. He is still on crutches.

Alfred Coon of Tacoma is visiting his mother, Mrs. Addie Hansen.

What is merciful censure? To make thy faults appear smaller? Maybe to veil them? No, no! Over them to raise thee on high.

EXPERTS WARN OF INSECT INVASION

HERE'S A ROGUE'S GALLERY of outstanding crop killers. The U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington has sent out warning that millions of them will be on the loose this summer. Early mild winter weather in many sections has caused them to multiply in almost unprecedented numbers. They are (L. to R., top): the corn worm and the staphylinid and (bottom) Mormon cricket and boll weevil. (International)

DELIGHT VALLEY

Mrs. E. D. Sherrill, Reporter
Phone 648R4

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Norris were pleasantly surprised on Wednesday evening, March 29, when friends, neighbors and relatives gathered at their home for a potluck dinner and farewell party. After a most bounteous spread of good food was well enjoyed by all present, group singing between a few tricks of magic and slight of hand by Mr. Oster, our local magician, completed a happy evening.

Mrs. Norris was further pleased and surprised when the men folks decided to help her pack and all canned goods and non-breakables were packed and loaded into the truck for an early morning take-off. Those present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hemenway, James and Reed Hemenway families, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Finerty, R. C. Oster, Lee Harrison, Leslie Scott, and Sherrill families, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sears and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Luten, Bobby Siebert and Erma McDonald.

Congratulations are extended to another young couple, for Frank Stalder took Chariene Boyd for his bride on Friday, March 24. Mrs. Stalder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Boyd of Springfield. The young couple are residing in Springfield where Frank is employed.

There has been an unusual amount of illness in the valley in recent weeks but it is good to be able to report that after a severe case of poison oak on her face, Betty Davidson was able to return to school this past week; Diane McBee is back after a hard attack of the flu, and Dick McBee is also on the mend from the flu. Both Willa Durlinger and Gary Van-Nortwick succumbed to the mumps but are improving rapidly.

Bill Stalder has re-enlisted for his third hitch in the army and will be assigned to his post of duty from the distribution center in California. As yet no word has been received as to his location.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gore left Saturday evening for San Francisco, California where they will vacation at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McLean, expecting to return home the latter part of this week.

There will be Easter Sunrise services held at the Walker Church at 5:30 Sunday morning. Breakfast will be served at the Walker gym kitchen about 8 a.m. for those attending the service, with each diner assuming an equal share of the expenses for the meal. Eggs, sausages, toast, fruit juice and cocoa is the bill of fare. Special music is promised for both the sunrise and the regular morning worship. An Easter egg hunt in the interim between Sunday school and church hours will be an event for all ages.

SILK CREEK

Mildred Cochran, Reporter

Elder Walter Biehn was down from Springfield Saturday and gave the sermon at the S.D.A. church.

Mr. Tumbull, state building inspector from Salem was a visitor at Silk Creek school, District 48, recently. His comments on the building were very favorable. He had previously given the district some advice on the erection of the new building.

Rayford Muno and his family from Oklahoma are back in the neighborhood again. They are living in Leslie Muno's house and one of their children, a little girl is attending school.

The school teachers at Silk Creek school, District 48, have been rehired for the next term of school. They are Mrs. Grace Perkey who has charge of the lower grades and Miss Gertrude Boring the upper grades. From all reports they have taught a very successful term of school and everyone seems glad that they will be here again next year.

There will be an Easter egg hunt at the Silk Creek school house, April 7. There will be a little dialogue given by the pupils. Parents and patrons of the district are invited.

Mrs. Ross Overholser received a letter from the Champlain family, who formerly lived here in the neighborhood. They are living at Coos Bay. Mr. Champlain has found work there and they are getting along real well.

There is some plowing of gardens and some planting, but the soil is still pretty wet. It will take a week of right good weather before there will be much gardening.

John Overholser is feeling much better than last week and Mrs. Hiram Wheeler is up and around, so far as we know that takes care of the sick, as there has been no new illnesses reported.

Oregon motorists suffered an estimated 492,166 breakdowns during the year 1949, according to the Oregon State Motor Association. The Association reached the figure by applying percentages of breakdowns as reported to their emergency road service department, to the state's registration figures.

Household Hint

When you're stitching a garment on your sewing machine, place the seam at the right-hand side of the machine. This keeps the material from being crushed and wrinkled in the limited space under the head.

With the Granges

Hebron Grange News

Hebron Grange at its regular meeting Saturday welcomed as visitors three members of Sandy Grange in Clackamas County and eighteen members of Mohawk-McKenzie Grange, who came on the Pomona visitation program. Each Grange in Lane County is assigned another grange to visit and present the program.

A letter of thanks was read from the 4-H woodworking club of Latham school, for the money donated by the grange to buy tools.

Melvie St. Elmo, H.E.C. chairman gave her quarterly financial report and announced the serving committee for April 15 as Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White and Mr. and Mrs. Geo Sibley.

The thanks of the Grange goes to the H. E. C. for the new silver, cups and saucers, and rug presented to the grange during the past quarter as well as the decorations, clean curtains and a clean hall. Hebron H. E. C. will visit Willa-Kenzie H.E.C. Wednesday, April 12. All grange women are invited to attend.
