Mr. and Mrs. Lynch Curran attended the graduation in Eugene, June 11, of their daughter Maxine from the University of Oregon, who majored in business administration. Also attending was an aunt of Miss Curran, Alice Noth of Salem, and grandmother, Rosa Curran of Cottage Grove. They report the exercises were an impressive sight, with 1800 graduates.

Mrs. Nora Small also received a degree from the University, at this year's graduation.

Glenn Stimmel has received his first class rating with the navy, where he is stationed at Millington, near Memphis, Tennessee. His rank now reads A. T. I which is aviation technician first class. He was one of six in the class to receive first class rating.

The car belonging to Loyd Gilham was wrecked recently when it left the road and rolled over in the ditch to avoid an oncoming car that was passing a truck. The accident occurred near Roseburg. Loyd and his brother Clyde, who were the only occupants of the car, escaped serious injuries. Apparently the ditch was filled with water as one of the boys was wet up to his waist and the other, who was thrown out, was wet DOWN to his waist.

Mrs. Paul Prescott of Hebron didn't expect a brief afternoon social call with Mrs. Monte Kuskie, Wednesday, to be of such lengthy duration and so dramatic. Mrs. Prescott's car went thru the bridge at the Kuskie place and for a brief time, both Mrs. Prescott and the car stood suspended by a front wheel above the river, until helpers came and secured the car from going on over backwards. Mrs. Prescott climbed out, unhurt, tho considerably shaken. A wrecker and workers spent several hours until dark, getting the car out. It was apparently not greatly damaged and it is now on the other side of the river until the bridge is rebuilt, leaving the Prescotts afoot. Mr. Kuskie had his car out at work. A precarious foot-log is the only way in and out for the Kuskie family. The bridge is a private bridge owned by Jack Mills. Plans for rebuilding were not learned. A gas truck went through the same bridge approach only last year, and the remainder of the bridge was believed sound at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Ewing and Judy visited from North Bend last week with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ewing. Don is working for the Weyrhausers there.

Mrs. G. A. Andrews was laid up one day last week with arthritis.

Bobby and Jimmy Fletcher are happy this summer at their farm home at Dallas with a saddle horse. In spite of the braces on their legs the boys can mount and dismount by themselves and care for the animal. They had to give up their bicycles last year because of polio. They formerly lived here.

J. E. Banton, who is visiting his daughter Nola, Mrs. Harvey Ship in California, received word of the death of a brother-in-law, Ed

Williams, who may be remembered here, and had been living in Corvallis the past year. He had spent several months bedfast from a broken hip. He was past 90.

Gardens are perking up a little. Of special note are those of Mrs. Wayne Berggren and Mrs. Ralph Gilham.

Mrs. Josie Phillips accompanied Mrs. Fred Mills home from club last week, her first trip up the river for quite a while and to Blackbutte where she used to live.

Company for Sunday at the Lynch Curran home and family gathering was especially for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wills from Vallejo, California, who are on a trip here and to Seattle with their trailer house until the first of July, following Mr. Wills' retirement from the navy. Also present were Vernon Fields, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Curran and his daughter, Mrs. Donald Fields and Pamela, also Mrs. Rosa Curran of Cottage Grove.

Mrs. Lynch Curran left Sunday for Salem to stay with her sister, Mrs. Alice Noth, while attending summer school at Monmouth.

The census count of last April may now be told with reports out for Lane county, that the unofficial count for London community was 450, including Cedar Creek, Blackbutte, Cougar Bend and Wilson Creek as far as Clark's Dairy. Mrs. Vera Kerr of Gold Hill is here visiting her mother Mrs. C. C. Gilham.

"Pitty Pat" Carlson is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jeanne Morton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Southerland are fixing up their small house back of Joe Olds with plans to rent it.

E. M. McEwen is working on the new hospital in Cottage Grove. Mrs. Glen Banton is making trips to Eugene to visit her brother, Floyd Longfellow, who is seriously ill in the hospital.

Lumber Seasoning Will Be Taught at OSC This Summer

OREGON STATE COLLEGE—A six-day lumber seasoning course will be given for the second year here at the Oregon Forest Laboratory beginning August 14, announces Paul M. Dunn, director of the laboratory. The course, with limited enrollment, is for dry kiln operators and other wood-using industry personnel.

Many requests that a second school be given followed the first session last year, Dean Dunn reports. Cooperating again in providing instructors, course materials and kiln facilities will be the Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station in Portland, the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis., and both the school of forestry and the forest products laboratory here.

Enrollment will be limited to 25 with enrollments accepted in the order received from kiln operators and personnel from management, supervisory and sales staff. A fee of $50 helps defray part of the cost. Application forms are available from the Oregon Forest Products Laboratory, Corvallis.

More people in the world live on rice than on corn or wheat, although many rice-eaters gradually are changing over.
