Commission Lists Clam Digging Rules

With the advent of the summer season, the Oregon Fish Commission wishes to remind clam diggers that the present regulations governing the digging of bay clams and razor clams for personal use are:

1. The taking and/or possession of clams for personal use means the taking, digging, or possessing the clams for one's use individually or for the use of his family or guests and not for sale, barter, exchange or disposition in any other manner.

2. Bay clams may be taken for personal use at any time without a license in Oregon waters; except that horse clams may be taken only during the period July 1 to December 31 of any year, both dates inclusive.

3. The bag limit is three dozen (36) bay clams of all species in the aggregate in any one day, not more than eighteen (18) of which may be horse clams. The first thirty-six (36) clams dug, taken or caught shall be counted as and shall constitute for that day the personal use bag limit.

4. Razor clams are not included in the bag limit for bay clams. The daily bag limit for personal use on this species also being thirty-six (36) clams per day. The first thirty-six (36) razor clams dug or taken shall be counted as and shall constitute for that day the personal use bag limit. Razor clams may also be taken or dug at any time for personal use without a license.

Ladies Resume Golf Competition

by Belle Burkholder
Ladies' Golf Correspondent

Ladies Day at the golf course Wednesday resulted in Frances Hunter's triumph over Barbara Hill, with Frances attaining the coveted first place on the ladder. Frances's score was quite low. As she said, "It is the first time I have broken fifty."

Barbara, however, won the trophy for having the lowest number of putts on the last five. Remember, we meet at 9 instead of 1 on Wednesdays due to the hot weather.

The regular two-balls are held Tuesday night with a potluck dinner to follow at the club house. Last Tuesday's two-ball was postponed because of the holiday.

Just Fishin'

In spite of the four-day holiday this week, we haven't had any reports of big catches recently. However, from now on is the time when things should be getting really good.

We understand that Dale Owens and his party caught some nice sized trout over the holidays, but otherwise, catches have been mediocre. Fish should start to bite soon in the McKenzie now that the water is going down, and the situation in Diamond, Paulina, and East lakes should pick up in the next few days.

Here's how it is in some of the other parts of the state:

Coastal Section
Trout angling continues poor to fair on the coastal streams. There have been no summer runs reported. The best trout catches are reported from tidewater, while surf and bay fishing continues excellent. Striped bass fishing on lower Coos Bay is fair, with plugs or jugs getting the best results. A few striped bass are being caught with bait on the Millacoma river.

Southern Oregon
Water conditions on the Upper Umpqua are excellent and trout fishing is very good. The take on fish is steadily improving. In the main Rogue and tributaries, trout fishing is good to excellent. The best catches are reported on single eggs in the North Fork. Black gnat and royal coachman flies in the Upper Rogue and gray hackle and bucktail coachman flies in the Middle Rogue and its tributaries are the best producers. Salmon fishing is fair.

Willamette Valley
Numerous streams in the valley remain fair to good for trout angling. Milk creek in Polk county has produced well on single egg, while nice catches also have been reported on Abiqua creek in Marion county with gray hackle and blue upright flies.

All streams in eastern Lane county are in excellent condition. Fly fishing in the Middle Fork of the Willamette has been good with the bucktail caddis being a good fish getter. The Marilyn lakes have been good while Gold lake has been poor.

Hunting Laws Hearing Set

The annual public hearing on hunting regulations will be held by the Oregon State Game Commission at 10:00 a.m., July 14, the time prescribed by statute. The Commission's Portland headquarters are located at 1634 S. W. Alder Street.

All persons and organizations interested in regulations pertaining to seasons, bag limits, and methods of taking game animals, game birds, and furbearing animals are invited to attend. Recommendations from all parties will be heard, but for accuracy in the record, Charles Lockwood, State Game Director, requests that all important fact and statements be submitted in writing.

Tentative regulations will be announced after the hearing. The Commission will reconvene within two weeks, make any changes deemed necessary, and set the final hunting regulations for 1950.

State Buys Site for Coastal Hatchery

The Big Creek game fish hatchery site on the Oregon coast has just been purchased by the Oregon State Game Commission. Erection of a hatchery on Big Creek below Yachats was approved over a year ago by the Game Commission. Construction plans have been completed, and the Game Commission hopes to place the hatchery in operation sometime next year. The hatchery's eight 20 by 100 foot rearing ponds will be suitable for rearing coastal cutthroat, silver salmon, chinooks, or steelhead.

O & C BOARD TO HEAR LOGGING PROBLEMS

The newly created O. & C. advisory board will hold a meeting in the new post office building, room 12, Eugene, Tuesday, July 12, beginning at 1:00 p.m. The first part of this meeting is opened to the public. The right-of-way problems of the logging industry will be discussed in relation to the timber sales contract. Deliberations of the board following will be held at a closed session.

Midgets Whomp Scio; Eugene Next

Bounding back into the win column after two unfortunate episodes the previous week, Cottage Grove's Mighty Midgets played their best brand of baseball last Thursday as they trounced Scio, 5-2.

Giving strong support to pitchers Lloyd Russell and Lester Goff, the Floyd Githens-American Legion sponsored team played its best game of the season. Russell pitched for three innings, striking out six, while Goff handled pitching duties for the remaining four innings and chalked up seven strike-outs. Each pitcher allowed Scio one hit, while the local lads pounded out a total of four hits. This game gives the Midgets a record of three wins and two losses. In the newly-formed WLE lamette league, they maintain a .500 average after four games. The next game will be played against the Eugene Midgets at the CPHS diamond this Sunday afternoon.
