Pleasant Hill Home is Scene for Wedding of Eugene Couple on July 26

Kennell-Eliaz

Baskets of gladioli and ferns with a background of green ferns formed the setting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Holbrook at Pleasant Hill for the wedding of Miss Florence Dunlevy of Eugene, daughter of Mrs. Hildred Dunlevy of Delight Valley to Elton Ross Hall, of Eugene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook, W. W. White, pastor of the First Christian church of Eugene officiated Wednesday evening, July 26, at 8:30 o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. James Cooley sang "Because" and "All Through the Years."

John Dunlevy, brother of the bride, gave her away. Her wedding gown was white net over white satin with a long train. A seed pearl tiara held her waist-length veil which was edged with chantilly lace. Her flowers were a lavender orchid surrounded by white carnations.

Maid of honor and the bride's only attendant was Miss Rosemary Hall, sister of the bridegroom. Her dress was baby blue chiffon over taffeta, and her flowers were pink carnations.

Ray Croson acted as best man, and usher was Bud Nelson. The reception was also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook. Mrs. Ed Wadler cut the cake and Mrs. C. E. Croson served the cake. Miss Verion Mapes and Miss Barbara Nelson served the punch.

The bride wore a light gray suit with white accessories and her wedding orchid on their wedding trip to Eureka, California.

They are now at home at 512 West Tenth street, Eugene.

"POUND" PARTY FOR PASTOR

Friends and members of the Free Methodist church met at the parsonage last Saturday evening to welcome their pastor, who was returned to the Cottage Grove church for another year, at the recent conference. The Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Starkey were absent, and upon their return found their house full of friends, who gave them a hearty welcome. It was in the form of a "pounding," and the table was piled high with many good things.

After a social time refreshments were served. A poem of welcome, written by Mrs. Lillian Gray Belknap, was read.

Old Schoolmates Get Together

More than 60 persons attended the Old Schoolmates picnic held Sunday in Cottage Grove park.

After the potluck dinner, a business meeting and election of officers was held. Ira Beidler was elected president of the group; Rufus Arne, vice president; Mrs. Faye Atkins McLaughlin, secretary-treasurer; and Belle Burkholder, reporter.

Those attending the picnic included: Hattie Sharp, Bertha Griffin McQueen, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baker, Ethel Nokes, Mallie Miller, Inez White Kræmer, Belle Burkholder Anna Petrie Adams, Cora and Charles Teeters, Mercelean Peterson, Anna and Ira Beidler, Gertrude Burdick Trask, Mary Hambric, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Griffin, Addie McDole Veatch.

Viola Vaughn Cruson, Leona Vaughn, Minnie B. Hockett, Harry and Hattie Orpurd Hart, Fay O. McLaughlin, Jessie and Frank Kelly, Mrs. John A. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McFarland, Lila Veatch, Ed Finnerty, Nettie G. Johnson, W. A. Hemenway, Horace and Daisy Arnold Cochran, Lulu Hull and Claude Plaster, Rufus and Jennie Hull Arne.

Nora Hull Yearous, Warren McFarland, Lydia Adams Van Buren, James Ewing, Effie McKibben and James Lebow, Jessie Winecoff Post, Winnie Thorne Brown, Kittle Brumbaugh Jones, Hugh and Esther Anderson Trunnell, and George McQueen. All are from Cottage Grove and vicinity.

Those from out-of-town included: Mabel McFarland Baker, Salem; George Chapman, Fort Bragg, Calif.; Myrtle Cooley, Eugene; Martha Fuller Olson, Spokane, Wash.; Dora Veatch Martin and Lettie Veatch Good, Creswell; U. S. and Winonah V. Bales, Dorrena; Ernest and Ida McReynolds, Divide; and Hazle Gray Gibbs, Amity.

decorations. The ceremony was read by F. Sherwood Smith, pastor of the church.

The bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father. Her gown was of heavy white slipper satin with long train. The bodice was fitted with sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. A band of braided satin held her fingertip veil of French imported illusion net. Her flowers were white carnations centered with an orchid from which fell white satin streamers knotted with stephanotis blooms.

Miss Virginia Dailey was maid of honor wearing a lavender gown with sheer ruffled cape and carried a nosegay of sweetpeas with green satin streamers.

Candlelighters were Miss Myrna VanDusen of Sweet Home, cousin of the bride, wearing a gold colored gown, and Mrs. David Garman, sister-in-law of the bride, in a blue brocaded gown.

Little Lanez Kay VanDusen, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white ruffled taffeta dress, which set off her long blonde curls and blue eyes. The bride's mother wore an aqua suit with black accessories and yellow rosebud corsage. Mrs. Leathers chose a brown suit with gold and brown accessories and red rosebud corsage for her son's wedding.

Charles Leathers of Klamath Falls, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man, and ushers were David Garman, brother of the bride, and Bill Miller.

Mrs. Sherwood Smith played the traditional wedding marches on her marimba and accompanied Alexander Hergert as he sang "God Touched the Rose" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church parlor with Mrs. Edwin Ziniker cutting the three-tiered wedding cake, and Miss Aloma Garman, cousin of the bride, serving the punch. Mrs. Charles Leathers of Klamath Falls had charge of the guest book.

For going away the bride wore an emerald green suit with white accessories and her orchid from her wedding bouquet. Both young people are graduates of the local high school, the bride with the class of '50 and the bridegroom with the class of '49. Mr. Leathers is employed at the local Safeway store.
