GAA Sells Corn, Selects Captains

Marlene Peterson is sports head of basketball this year in GAA. Captains are Mary Boone, Donna Abeene, Mary Lou Stanley and Lenore Porter.

Letters have been written to other GAA organizations to find out what they have been doing that can be adopted at Cottage Grove.

Students who are not in GAA and are earning points for their letters are eligible to pay their dues to Mary Louise Levings immediately after Christmas.

Student Singing Finishes School

Strains of "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," "Joy To The World," and "Jingle Bells" will be heard through the halls on Friday, December 22. On that day the entire student body will gather around the big decorated tree in the library and give forth with their best singing.

Mrs. Nell Hergert, choir director, and the choir will lead a serpentine starting from the cafeteria. Choir members will lead the group in singing such Christmas carols as "O, Come All Ye Faithful," "The First Noel," "Deck the Hall," and "White Christmas."

Following this, school will be dismissed until Tuesday, January 2.

BOYS SAVED BY BELL

Mr. Ciochetti's Spanish class had a spelling bee the other day with the boys pitted against the girls. They spelled Spanish words using the Spanish alphabet. The boys beat the girls by one point—the bell rang.

POP'S LONGIES REVEALED

"Do I really have to wear this long underwear with a bathing suit over it, plus a pair of high heels?" This was asked by the new members at the Girls' Service Club initiation after school, November 29. Girls initiated were Jean Coleman, Shirley Hilton, Joan Webb, Nancy Violette, Nadine Smith, Eloise Crosby and Lorna Van Den Bosch.

Initiation stunts found blindfolded girls trying to pin the brand on the horse and having to tell some important or embarrassing moments. Kay Leonard was in charge.

After initiation, refreshments were served. New members washed the dishes.

A volleyball game between new and old members was played.

The next initiation will be held in December. Lorna Van Den Bosch will be in charge of initiation of the new members.

Underwood Prexy Of Arts, Crafts

Wayne Underwood has taken over as president of the Arts and Craft Club since Bill Hudson has joined the navy.

The club's new project is decorating the hall for Christmas, during the meeting they made some snowflakes for the library windows.

The programs that were sold last Friday at the CG-Oakridge game were a success and 11 dollars profit was made.

A point system is being worked out in which 50 points entitle a member to a letter in the form of a palette and paint brushes. It will take 75 points for a bronze pin and 125 for a silver pin.

The next meeting will be held January 9, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Darnell and daughter Mariel Jean went to Coos Bay Friday evening. They attended church there on Saturday and saw Mrs. Darnell's cousins Mr. and Mrs. Fred who live there. They were surprised to see another cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Owens of Wrangell, Alaska.

They had dinner on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Odell Brown. They returned home Sunday.

The school will have its Christmas program Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Jennie Walker who went back to her home in Medford for a few days returned Monday to stay for a time with her daughter Mrs. E. M. Babcock.

Mrs. Glenn Gottwald and baby daughter arrived Monday night from Orange, Calif., for a stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Whaley visited with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Carlson at Creswell, Sunday.

It is that time of year again when we should give a few minutes of thought to our ever faithful postal employees and mail carriers. Their duties are no lighter than usual, perhaps even a bit heavier than last year due to the mail piling up during the eastern railroad strike and are now coming all at once.

Grandmother Wheeler who has been an invalid at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Darnell for nearly three years has recently been ill and at this time seems to be no better.

News is scarce this week since everyone is busily preparing for Christmas. Maybe there will be more news the week following, after the various Christmas school and club activities.

Merry Christmas everyone.

UGH!

We hope-um you teepee full of joyous spirits and happiness this Christmas time.
