Realty Views

Jack, a local business man, leaned across the luncheon table and asked a successful investor, "What do you consider the best form of investment?"

The investor tucked in his napkin and replied, "I'm partial to real estate. It meets every test."

"For instance, the first requirement for any safe investment is stability. What could be more stable than land? It does not shrink or move away. It is about the only indestructible property."

"Then, it's easily watched. It is visible. You can see it, inspect it, look after it, without relying on anyone else's opinion."

"Very interesting," Jack said, "But what about returns?" "There again," the investor said, "real estate stands out. It pays higher than average returns, but without the risk often associated with good earnings. All in all, well-selected real estate is hard to beat. I'd certainly recommend it."

We recommend it too. Make an appointment to see the best available investment opportunities in Cottage Grove.
