Word has been received from Jackie White, former London school eighth grader that he moved with his family during Christmas vacation to the state of Washington where they are living on a large farm and the snow three feet deep and temperatures 10 below zero. The children have to walk nearly two miles to school as there are no school buses. A sister Myrna has been promoted to the third grade.

It has been reported that Lawrence McKay and Ivie Bennett were married in Cottage Grove, December 22, and are at home at Mr. McKay's new home near Mary White bridge.

Bill Eastham is beginning to think he is a big-game hunter after the cougar he killed, Saturday, in Drew Creek near the Cougar Bend road. This was no ordinary cat for as the animal was treed by the Eastham hounds he sprang without hesitation or warning straight for Mr. Eastham himself, who shot the big animal in mid-air, then leaped aside, the dead cougar landed right in his tracks.

C. C. Gilham discovered cougar tracks over a week ago near his beaver traps along the river that had mysteriously lost their bait and reported to Eastham who hounded the trail until the hunt Saturday that took about four hours, ending not far from a Cougar Bend residence. Two fresh deer kills were also found. Eastham was assisted by Clarence Parr, the cougar being all the two men could drag and estimated to weight 150 to 160 pounds.

An announcement is made by Robin Routh, reporter for the London 4-H Livestock club that there is a meeting this Friday evening at the James Black home.

Work books were given out last week for the cooking clubs. Regular meeting will be held this week on Tuesday.

Mrs. George Gunn has volunteered to serve as leader of the 4-H Sewing Class I.

Harold Abeene is given honorable mention for his outside colored lights for Christmas decoration, that sent a glow of cheer across the valley.

Word has been received from the Jim Flemmings who left here January 2, to return to their home in Fall Brook, Calif., after two weeks visit. They found sunshine all the way to Sacramento that they reached that first day. They found no need for chains at all over mountain roads.

London store has a container for the March of Dimes for any one wishing to make contributions.

Crawford Bost, a former resident of London community, suffered a heart attack early Monday, and is seriously ill in Cottage Grove hospital. The doctor believes the crisis is past and he is resting easier, however he will need oxygen for several days more. Mrs. Bost is also under the doctor's care.

POLITICAL WORMS

This year is political year and no matter how cold the weather is in January the early birds will be looking for political worms.

Household Hint

To remove tea stains from china, sponge them with salt and baking soda, but not on gilt edges.

The safest New Year's resolution to make is a resolution not to make resolutions.
