

fashion firsts

Spring arrived this week in your stores. January sales are practically a thing of the past and a few sunny days makes the new season seem just around the corner.

At PERRY'S just arrived are crinkly print seersucker blouses that could double as house dresses, zipped up the front. Long seersucker print housecoats in coachman style, or a bright, bold plaid cotton one in red, yellow and black, very striking.

For now and on into summer—nubbed cotton T-shirt sets. In green, navy and red with white nubs. Sleeveless shirt with ribbed cotton around neck, sleeve and waist, short sleeved cardigan to match.

The new "Mr." skirts by Daryl are in for spring. In grey rayon with a tweed look, or plain light grey, with grip waistband, slightly flared, plain in front, with inverted side pockets like on a man's trouser. Or the traditional "Mr." in navy slubbed rayon or tan or grey rayon check, with soft pleats in front like a man's trouser, one inverted side pocket.

More Mynette Seas-n-rite rayon crease resistant suits have arrived. In pastel checks, blue and yellow, lavender and green, also in plain light grey and light blue.

A glimpse of summer itself in the Mary Dean two piece dresses—horizontal striped skirts with plain tops trimmed in the stripe. Red, blue, yellow.

For the sportswoman—new grey striped rayon flannel slacks with self belt.

Alice of California calisheen skirt in black—wrinkle resistant, stain resistant with Unisek, makes it durably water repellent. Tailored, with one deep front kick pleat. Lady Alice rayon prints, so good now under your heavy coat.

nice all through spring and summer.

At the SMART SHOP Carol King comes out in a snappy two piece navy blue "sailor suit." It is in rayon faille, two piece, double-breasted blouse buttoned with tiny stars, sailor collar trimmed in white, three-quarter sleeves, full skirt. For very dressy occasions, a silk shantung in coral or tan, sleeveless with puckered waist, flared skirt.

With that sweet, old fashioned look—a black and white check rayon, sleeveless, with tiny black buttons down the front of the blouse. Diagonal black satin strips make an attractive design on the blouse, with satin ribbing forming the waistband.

Our favorite—slubbed heavy rayon in grey or mustard. Semi-tailored with deep under sleeve, short and cuffed, rolled V-neck, buttoned all the way down the front, and a very full skirt. The perfect dress for anywhere, anytime.

And Jantzen spring sweaters—cardigans with a new neck look, squared. In lovely colors of yellow, teal, pink or white.

Pastel prints in shirred seersucker housecoats caught our eye at ARNEST'S. These are very feminine, with cardigan tops, one large pastel button.

Rayon jersey prints—good all-ways. In many attractive designs—flowers or splash prints, and many lovely colors—lavender and green or aqua and black.

A tan rayon butcher suit-dress. The dress has a sewn-on brown and white print top with round, shirred neck. The short jacket, trimmed in the print has 3/4 sleeves.

Another attractive spring suit-dress is of Bur-mil suiting. The one piece dress has a blue and yellow tiny check skirt with plain blue top. The checked capelet is detachable and is lined in the same blue of the blouse.

Swishy femininity for the teen crowd is a navy and white checked rayon taffeta with full padded skirt that stands out, pekoy collar and cuff trim and red faille belt. Or a Loma Leads black, blue and white check taffeta dress, sleeveless, with deep V-neck outlined in velvet, full skirt with deep navy velvet belt.

With a crisp look—a Boulevard butcher print in grey and red, grey and white or green and tan—with big straw belts to match. Shirtwaist style with hidden buttons under a front panel.

Acetate rayon prints, Si-Si by Cadillac. An attractive gold and black print with mandarin neck shirtwaist style, buttoned down in front—in cool, frosty aqua.

green broadcloth, sleeveless, with little, round collar overlaid with white organza, scroll flower pockets. Lavender embossed cotton dress that looks like it had big nubs on it—deep V neck, black buttons centered with tiny rhinestones. A chambray with wide horizontal stripes in light blue and yellow. Or a grey chambray with shirred top, bright and gay embroidered flowers in a square across the blouse and dotting the belt.

Also a Vicky Vaughn blue, brown and green plaid with embossed white cotton trim. A plaid scalloped collar with the white showing below, two very large pockets and a full skirt.

A Toni Todd cotton with slanting V stripes in brown and white with a solid tan panel down the front, buttoned all the way down with tiny brown buttons.

And best of all, especially for the teen crowd, are White Stag Clam Diggers in sailcloth of rainbow colors stitched in white—fireman's red, bright blue, dark green, lavender, tan, bright yellow and aqua.

Cottons literally line the walls at PETERSEN'S. Toni Todd chambray in grey or lavender with embossed white cotton trim and big embroidered flowers on the pockets centered with clear plastic buttons. A diagonal line of white buttons from the neck to the bottom of the skirt.

Successful New Season

Youthful taffeta frock.

By VERA WINSTON

THE young and the not-so-young, in fact, every age, every type, every budget, has been smartly considered by clothes designers this season. Which means that every last one of us can be nicely dressed with a minimum of time and money expended. Typical of the dresses for juniors is this scoop necked rayon taffeta in brown and white check with brown velvet piping at the neck and wrists. The white plique
