

Oregon Glad Group Seeks Other Clubs Throughout State

Gladiolus fans from 23 Oregon communities and five out-of-state points were recorded as paid-up members of the Oregon State Gladiolus society at its organizational meeting in Portland, January 29.

Those attending the inaugural session agreed upon the following objectives: To stage a state gladiolus show annually, to encourage regional glad shows and to urge organization of community glad societies throughout the state.

The society will issue a minimum of four bulletins annually on glad culture, new varieties, local club notes of state-wide interest and glad personalities.

Officers elected are Therman R. Evans, Portland, president; R. V. Ainsworth, La Grande, and Mrs. F. J. Winder, Portland, vice presidents; Mrs. J. George Eisenhauer, Portland, secretary-treasurer.

Jack R. Fleming of Gresham was named editor of the quarterly bulletin.

It was decided that three vice presidents shall be elected annually, one from northwestern Oregon, one from eastern Oregon and one from southwestern Oregon.

The first southwest representative will be designated when a greater membership is obtained in that section.

Annual membership fee was set at $1 and "cash or check attached" applications were received from 65 persons. Additional membership applications, accompanied by $1, should be addressed to the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. George Eisenhauer, 3453 NW Thurman street, Portland 10.

Indicative of the state-wide enthusiasm for the organization, a glance at the initial membership list shows these Oregon communities represented:

Albany, Baker, Coos Bay, Cove, Dundee, Gresham, Independence, La Grande, Lake Grove, Lebanon, McMinnville, Milwaukie, Oregon City, Ocean Lake, Ontario, Oswego, Portland, Salem, Silverton, Sweet Home, Troutdale, Waterloo and Wren.

Candidates blossom in the spring and get frost-bitten along about November.

Nonagenarian Honored at Dinner

Judson Allen, a former resident now living at Redmond with his daughter, Mrs. T. H. Moody, was honored January 30, on his 90th birthday anniversary with a dinner by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Art McDermott, at their home at Dunsmuir, Calif. At present Mr. Allen is making an extended visit with the McDermotts.

The honoree received many nice birthday gifts. A chicken dinner was served, followed by the birthday cake and ice cream which were served by candlelight.

Other former residents helping Mr. Allen celebrate his birthday were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sheary of Dunsmuir.

Besides his two daughters, Mrs. McDermott and Mrs. Moody, Mr. Allen has two sons, Don Allen of Cottage Grove and Hubert Allen of Palo Alto, Calif.

Honest Abe, Log Cabin are Dinner Table Decorations

Mrs. C. C. Cruson entertained members of the Tuesday Evening club, February 12, at the annual dinner. Hundreds of the members were guests at the dinner and evening of bingo that followed.

The hostess' dinner table decorations were striking and in keeping with the day. Her table cloth was blue with red and white streamers suspended from a picture of Abraham Lincoln on the wall at the head of the table. A little log house surrounded by moss centered the table while a miniature Abe sawed wood.

Of particular interest to the group was a copy of the New York Herald which was printed the day following the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Japanese Bride Feted With Shower

(Mrs. R. G. Conner, Lorane correspondent)

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Leland Owen was given at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Owen last Thursday evening. Hostesses were Mrs. W. J. Leach, Mrs. Harold Gowing and Mrs. T. P. Addison.

Mrs. Owen is a Japanese war bride who only recently arrived in America.

During the course of the evening Mrs. Owen showed several silk kimonos she had made, one of which was beautifully hand painted. All were made entirely by hand with such beautiful workmanship that it was next to impossible to find a stitch showing anywhere. She also modeled one of the kimonos and wore with it matching clogs.

Several games were played before the many gifts were unwrapped and passed around to be admired.

Refreshments in keeping with the occasion were served by the hostesses.

Sgt. Leland Owen left Monday for Tacoma where he will be stationed. Mrs. Owen will remain here with his parents until he finds a place to live. After they are settled in Tacoma, Mrs. Owen plans to enter school to learn to speak English better.

Police to Enforce Ruling Covering Used Goods Sale

Chief of Police Ed Jones said this week that he intended to enforce Ordinance 51 of the original charter that makes it unlawful for second-hand dealers to receive property without full registration of the seller and the goods.

The ordinance was brought to light after the police department had recovered stolen property that had been sold to a second-hand dealer. The dealer said he did not know who sold him the property.

The old ordinance was passed in 1901 and makes the fine for not registering all goods and sellers' names at $25. It is expected that this will be raised after the charter amendment is voted on at a future election to make the fine not less than $100 in this and other ordinances.

It is also expected that the ordinance will be changed to read that dealers cannot accept any goods from anyone under 21 years of age.

His "death" appeared so definite that an undertaker had taken over, and it was the mortician who discovered faint signs of life in the "miracle man." Now in the New Kensington, Pa. Hospital, Varshine is attended by nurse Betty Lukaszczk. (International Soundphoto)

Booth, all of Cottage Grove; Jack Kroening of Elkton; Leonard E. Deveraux of Disston; Robert Barnes and William Aiken, both of Myrtle Creek; Glen Robling and Max K. Balch Robbery Case Thought Outside Job

Still unsolved this week was the Balch Grocery store armed robbery case where a youthful bandit in blue jeans stuck-up Mrs. Earl Balch and took $150 from the cash register.

City Police Chief Ed Jones said that he now believed it must have been an outside job, as he had taken in every known suspect that could be the bandit for identification. Mrs. Balch could not identify any of the some 30-odd taken to her.

Jones said that similar hold-ups by youthful bandits had been reported in Grants Pass and Myrtle Creek that led him to believe that it may have been an outside job.
