

Members Given Degrees at Hebron Grange; To Visit Four Oaks Grange

Five new members of Hebron Grange were given degrees at the meeting Saturday night, February 16, with Harper and Wilda Casler taking the third and fourth degrees and Everett and Ione McCoy and Newell Corliss taking the first and second.

A report on the building activities was that work is progressing with a crew under the direction of Jack Godard working all day Saturday and Sunday. Hugh Trunnell was called to Portland with Mrs. Trunnell because of a death in the family. Hot dinners were served the men working at the hall both days.

Reports Given

A report from the agriculture committee contained a short talk on successes in the east of pasture plantings of lucino clover mixtures and beef stock came from O. M. Patton. Mrs. Clare Chapman discussed legislative re-appointment, and Newell Corliss talked on the OPS and government prices on used farm machinery.

A call was made for an agent to handle grange insurance, and demits were granted to Roy, Gladys and Barbara Means who have transferred to Redmond Grange. County management plan was discussed, led by Robert St. Elmo.

Next meeting of the Home Economics club will be Tuesday, February 26, for an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Nellie Harris. Assisting Mrs. Harris as hostesses are Eva Montgomery and Ida Mae Harris. There will be potluck dinner at noon.

Traveling baskets were located and reported still traveling. They are urged to be brought in to the meeting at Mrs. Harris'. Sheila Woods was reported ill and unable to attend. Her very interesting report from lecturer's school at Corvallis was read by Nellie Harris, acting lecturer and program director, at the Saturday night meeting.

Square Dance

The date March 8 has been set for the square dance for Golden Years fund to be held by Hebron and Dorena Granges at the Dorena hall with music and calls furnished by Alfred Grub of Hebron. Home Ec. chairman of the two granges announce each family is to bring one pie and six sandwiches for refreshments. Grange members and their invited guests are to attend.

To Visit Four Oaks

All members of Hebron Grange are invited to attend a visitation at the Four Oaks Grange this Saturday night, February 23, and especially all officers are requested to attend or to arrange for a substitute if unable to go.

Hebron Grange will put on the program at Four Oaks which will include officers' drill, a pantomime skit and the first appearance of the Hebron Glee club directed by Helena Overgaard. Four Oaks Grange hall is located on west 11th street in Eugene near the airport. O. M. Patton has room for three or four riders, who need transportation.

A valentine display table was put on by the Home Ec. club and a story of St. Valentine and "My Valentines" was given by Jack Godard who displayed keepsake souvenirs from his travels of his lifetime. A valentine guessing game caused much informal merriment and the evening was turned over to square dancing. A potluck supper was served at 6:30 p.m. before the opening of the meeting.

The next regular meeting of Hebron Grange will be March 1, and will feature a 4-H program with 4-H members taking part in observance of National 4-H Clubs Week.

Refreshment committee for the March 1 meeting is Mr. and Mrs. Dean Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Harper Casler. Members are to bring cake and sandwiches.

Skit practice will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings before glee club practice at the Mads Overgaard home this week. Play practice is being held Sunday afternoons at the grange hall.

OPS FIXES CEILING PRICES ON FARM EQUIPMENT

OPS has undertaken stabilization of an important part of farm operating costs by establishing ceiling prices on new and used major mechanical farm equipment and on new and used repair parts.

All resellers at retail are covered by the regulation, known as CPR 100. New equipment is priced on the basis of manufacturers' current price lists, plus transportation, handling and taxes, as specified in the regulation. Farmers and dealers can get detailed facts on the regulation from their nearest OPS District Office.

In the case of an auction sale of new and used equipment each auctioneer must file with OPS a written notice of every public or private auction at least six days before the sale. This notice should be filed with the nearest OPS District Office and must include the place, date and time of sale, a general description of farm equipment to be auctioned and a copy of the announcement of the sale.

Lorane Grange Hall Renovated

The work of renovating the grange hall is now completed. After the new fireproof ceiling was installed the walls were repainted off-white with a light gray trim. The ladies cleaned the curtains and the floor was refinished. Members noticed at the last meeting that the room was not only much warmer but the sound effects were also much improved. Any donations to help pay for the cost of the materials used will be greatly appreciated by the grange.

Lernie Halderson, state gate keeper will be at the February 26 meeting to school officers for floor work. All officers and patrons are asked to make a special effort to be present for this meeting.

A card party was held Saturday evening at the grange hall. The ladies brought sack lunches for two. The party was open to the public.

Refreshment committee for the next meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Kohn.

HEC members had a potluck luncheon February 5 at the Robert Tew home with 18 present. A home economics club was organized with Mrs. Tew as chairman. It will meet on the first Tuesday of each month. Plans were made to give a public square dance on March 1. A caller will be on hand who will also furnish the music. Each lady is asked to bring a pie and six sandwiches. Admission will be charged which will be used on the building fund.

New 4-H Club Agent Takes Over Duties in Douglas

M. L. Kumlir Friday took over the duties of 4-H Club Agent in Douglas County. He will work with Miss Lou Owens, the other 4-H Club agent here. Kumlir replaces Wilbert Anderson, who resigned recently to take over a farm near Elkton.

Kumlir, born in Salem and reared in Linn County, is a graduate of Oregon State College, class of '41. Prior to that, however, he studied at Kentucky and Boston, completing his last two years at OSC.

During the war years, from 1941 to 1947, Kumlir was in India, where he not only was connected with high school teaching of chemistry, physics and agriculture, but he managed two farms, totaling 235 acres with a dozen or more workers under him.

He lived near the border of Indian and Pakistan. He believes independence a good thing for the people of India. While uprisings cost them two million lives and uprooted 10 million more, the conditions now seem better than ever before, he commented. He said it is good that the people of India have to stand on their own feet.

Kumlir has been at Tillamook since 1947 with the Production and Marketing administration.

DEFENSE AND STEEL

Beginning in the first quarter of 1952, direct defense and defense-related production and construction will take more than 40 per cent of the carbon steel, and about 60 per cent of the supplies of aluminum and copper wire mill and copper brass mill products, Defense Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann has announced.

Fruit Prospect For 1952 Viewed By OSC Economist

Here's the way 1952 fruit market prospects look to M. D. Thomas, Oregon State college extension economist, who details his views in a new outlook circular. It is available through county extension offices or by writing direct to the college.

Apples: January cold storage holdings were well below a year ago. In the season ahead, a larger crop and lower prices are probabilities, but gross returns will not decline much because of likelihood for a larger crop.

Pears: Unless bad weather cuts production, Bartlett pears are almost certain to be lower than in 1951. Stocks in canner's warehouses January 1 were 10 per cent larger than 13 months ago. Look for a larger crop in Washington state and Hood River county where frost hit the 1951 crops. Winter pear holdings, meanwhile, are now a tenth smaller than a year ago, and below average. This favors a good finish to the marketing year; may react favorably with high opening prices on 1952 crop winter pears.

Prunes: Chances are that fresh prune prices will be lower than either 1950 or 1951. Prunes for canning or drying will return about the same or slightly better than in 1951, but not as good as in 1950 unless crops are unusually short.

Peaches: Prices may be lower but larger crops should keep up returns from sales.

Cherries: National sweet cherry production in 1952 is likely to be enough larger than a year ago to cause lower grower prices. While import threats continue to disturb the brined cherry market, little carry-over in either canned or brined cherries is expected.

Strawberries: Market prospects are better than a year ago. More money in the pockets of the nation's spenders, a smaller carry-over of frozen berries, and the likelihood of a smaller crop point to improved prospects.

Cane fruits: This year and for a few more, boysenberry, loganberry and red raspberry prices are likely to compare more favorably with other berries than they did during the late 1940's. Less promising is the outlook for blackcaps, domestic blackberries, gooseberries and cranberries.
