Hazardous Sixth Street Crossing

If we were asked to name the worst traffic hazard in the Cottage Grove area, we would place the Sixth street crossing of the Southern Pacific railroad first. Not only is it a traffic hazard, but a fire hazard as well. So far as we know the Southern Pacific has done little or nothing to relieve this hazard except erect a warning bell.

Patience of many motorists is often tried, waiting for the SP engineer to switch a long line of freight cars. This time consuming wait would be done away with if the SP could be persuaded to build a switch yard north of the Main street crossing or else cease to try to switch a mile of box cars at one time.

On May 9th, a stalled car of a Standard oil employee was wrecked by a freight barreling through town, while the train crew was apparently reading orders without any effort to slow up or give warning of the approaching freight. And previous to this a rural fire truck was halted briefly while waiting for the track to be cleared by a switching freight. It so happened that the wait was brief, but there have been instances where rural property might have burned up while the truck waited for a long freight to clear the crossing. SP officials have informed us to make a complaint any time the crossing was blocked for 15 minutes, but in 15 minutes time valuable property can be lost. Besides, who among the waiting motorists would think to look at a watch to time the switching train?

From observation it seems to be quite an effort for the SP to improve any local improvements. Could the fact that the SP is the only carrier in the district without competition have anything to do with the local situation or is this road just naturally tight?

DEFINITIONS

A CONSERVATIVE is one who thinks of the welfare of his family and his country first; who is willing and anxious to stand on his own two feet; earn his own living; save what he can; one who wants to spend his own savings; live under the American Constitution and the Bill of Rights; develop himself and his country according to the American system of free-incentive enterprise.

A "LIBERAL" is a Socialist, one who is determined to be liberal in the spending of someone else's money, not his own. He believes in handouts to the have-nots who won't support themselves; he is an internationalist and, as a do-gooder, demands that America support the underprivileged of the world. He is determined that the American taxpayer support the bankrupt governments of Europe, arm them and defend them with American troops at our expense.

At home, he is for free medical care, government control of schools, control of industry, higher pay for less work.

The "Liberal" is convinced that he is heaven-ordained to run the world and demands that billions of our tax money be handed over to him to spend as he pleases without the necessity of accounting for it. As a "Liberal" hates to spend his own money, he always gets himself in position to spend public funds or other people's money, for which he always arranges for ample compensation for himself. He is for government control of the nation and its industries, the support of the people from the cradle to the grave. In other words, he is a Socialist, no matter what flag he sails under at the moment.

Group of political scientists has rated the first 10 U. S. senators. The first three are Douglas of Illinois, Kefauver of Tennessee, and Morse of Oregon, in that order. Win, place and show-off.—Bend Bulletin.

The Army's Quarter-Master General paid nearly $8,000,000 for butter in the four months after war started in Korea, despite the fact that the government, through the Commodity Credit Corporation already owned more than 160,000,000 pounds.

At one Army field, personnel writing contracts for procurement had to fill out an average of 3,700 papers for each contract. (Testimony before Bonner House Sub-Committee)

While the army was buying 4,770,000 pounds of dried eggs at an average of $1.30 per pound, the Commodity Credit Corp. was trying to sell 50,000,000 pounds at $1.04 per pound.

The Commerce Department budget for 1940 was $51,500,000; for 1952 it is $931,200,000 — an increase of 1,709%.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
Why is it when people get along in life and are pretty well fixed in a financial way they want to pick out a small town and let it die with them. For example Cottage Grove's city budget. I think I'm speaking in behalf of any one of the younger folks that like to see our city prosper and grow like other towns and not be held down to some one party not wanting to live in our times and not back in the early 1900's. Back in those days we, rather they, drove a horse and buggy. How many of the older people that are objecting to a decent living wage for city employees, how many of those folk would want to work on city employees' wages?

We all want fire protection, good policemen, good competent city employees, but it's for sure we can not get them if we don't "SHARPEN OUR PENCILS AND WITTS". Just look around and see if other cities are battling odds. Any town that has the same industry or industries we have, namely Eugene and Springfield, are they going backwards? Certainly not. Too, take a look at Drain, Roseburg, and see what they are doing.

By this article I don't mean not to use good judgment. By the same token, if we are going to live in this day and age, let's forget what we did back in the early days and do what they are doing today. How many older folks want their children to go to the little red schoolhouse because they did? Our school system is doing very well and let's let the other half of the city do equally as well. TLG

W. C. Martin
Cottage Grove Sentinel
Cottage Grove, Ore.
Dear Mr. Martin:

To say that I am grateful to you for the weekly visits of the Sentinel is putting it mildly and like a youngster in the back seat in school, my hand is up to attract attention.

Recently the Pratts, having lovely home on Alameda heights in Portland, had heard me play the harmonica. The mother and son came to see me and the mother told me her son, a student in the Willamette University, Salem, intended to have some of his friends in for a party during the spring vacation and he wanted something for entertainment that would be outstanding. I supposed there would be 10 or 12 students at this function. They sent for me and on arriving at nine o'clock, found the large room full of young people. The writeup in the Journal had this to say: "The outstanding event of the evening was the harmonica playing of Mrs. Fannie Goude." I played my best. In between stories and songs, several old funny songs. I arrived at my place of abode a few minutes before 4 a.m. I agree with the woman, who when asked by a little girl, "Are you an old lady?" The answer was, "I have lived a long time, but I am not old." I have improved in my harmonica playing in the past four years for there are times when it seems I just have to have an outlet.

Fannie Goude, Portland, Ore.
Editor's note—We hope Aunt Fannie will pardon us for publishing a portion of her letter, which was more or less personal, but to us the remarkable part of the letter is that "Aunt Fannie" can still enjoy life and has refused to let the years "hem her in." We also admit that the letter should be read by mature adults only because the reference to coming in at 4 a.m. might encourage the youngsters to take additional liberties. Mrs. Goude will be 87 next October 10.

TO THE LOT OWNERS OF THE LOCAL CEMETERY

We wish to thank all those who have so generously responded to our pleas for assistance in the Annual Cemetery Cleanup and to remind those who have not as yet mailed their share to do so as soon as possible.
We have at last mailed the last of the 200 or more cards notifying the lot owners of our Annual Task, so there is no excuse for them not to know. Here's hoping we can complete the Task. Mail to Miss Belle Burkholder, Secy. Cottage Grove Cemetery Assn., 225 N. Lane St.

TO THE LOT OWNERS OF THE COTTAGE GROVE CEMETERY
I wish to thank all those who have so far contributed to our Annual Clean-up, financially or otherwise. This includes the valuable publicity donated thru the wide circulation enjoyed by the Cottage Grove Sentinel, which is showing wonderful results. We have barely got started, tho, on this huge clean-up task.
My principal worry, the burning of the immense trash pile in the center of the cemetery, has almost solved itself, with the promise of Ernest Shipley, Chief of the Cottage Grove Fire Department, who has stated he will summon volunteer aid if needed when our workers consume this huge stack of trash by fire. We trust this will not be needed.

When this pile is burned, I do hope we won't ever have such a huge stack there again. I do want to beg all those who are cleaning their own lots, to dispose of the trash, and not make new piles all over the grounds while doing so. One man from out of town, cleaned his lot off and
