Lenora Pyburn, president-elect of Cottage Grove Business and Professional Women's club, will be installed with other new officers in formal ceremonies to be held Monday evening, June 2, in Friendship hall of the Methodist church. Mrs. Pyburn also will attend BPW national convention June 29 to July 4 in Boston.

Scouts Presented Charters May 25

A special feature in the Sunday morning service at the Methodist church, May 25 was the presentation of Boy Scout Troop 18 and Cub Pack 18 charters by Will Larsen, field Scout executive of Eugene.

Mr. Larsen made the presentations to Rev. Clark S. Enz, minister, who in turn presented them to Cecil H. Safley, institutional representative.

Scouting cards were presented to Mr. Safley; Maurice Bottorff, troop committee chairman; H. L. Sparks, Boyd E. Allen and John Welden; Scoutmaster Rodney J. Safley and Assistant Scoutmasters R. G. Moody and Ronald W. Zahler.

Cards were also presented to Pack committeeman Dale E. McMullin, chairman; Nelson J. Zeller, Wayne M. Monroe, Harold Brandness, George Gibson; Clubmaster Wilber H. Crane; Don Mothers Frances A. McGuire; Pauline Mullica, Myra K. Macready, Louise Hansen, Betty Hurley, Virginia Nystrom and Eva Thwing.

In making the presentation it was stated the troop charter carries a "20-year veteran" seal and that G. B. Arnest was one of the original organizers of the troop. The scouting work has been sponsored continuously since then by the church.

Local Group Takes Part in Rebekah, IOOF Salem Meet

Over 1700 IOOF and Rebekahs attended the 96th annual session of the IOOF Grand Lodge of Oregon and affiliated bodies held in Salem May 18-22.

A beautiful and impressive event of Monday evening was the conferring of the Degree of Chivalry upon six men and 84 women, the largest class ever to receive this honor at one time. The grand march in uniform with a military ball for all branches of the IOOF followed the conferring of the degrees.

Mary S. Allen of Hood River is assembly president. Tuesday morning assembly officers were seated by the Salem Rebekah Lodge #1. During the opening session Vera Neubauer of Salem welcomed the visitors and Garnet Ruckman of La Grande made the response.

Degrees conferred. At the morning session the assembly degree was conferred upon 257 candidates at one time. Three members of Cottage Grove lodge were in the class. They were Emma Smith, Alda Miller and Paul Miller.

During the evening the group was welcomed by Governor Douglas McKay and Mayor Al Loucks. Following a most interesting program the grand march and grand ball was held at the Crystal Gardens.

Assembly officers for the coming year who were elected Wednesday morning are: Olive Ramey, Hillsboro, president; Lola F. Osborne, Portland, vice president; Byrle Drury, Coburg, warden; Louise Smith, Baker, secretary; Ida B. Knight, Canby, treasurer. Mary S. Allen was elected as delegate to the Association of Rebekah Assemblies to be held in Texas.

After the business session Wednesday morning a tour of places of interest was conducted with transportation furnished those taking part.

Grand Parade. The grand IOOF parade was held at 7 p.m. Wednesday. The parade was led by Naval Reserve color-bearer and guard. Many floats and marching organizations with six bands took part.

After the parade a special meeting of Rebekah lodge #1 was held in the armory with Seafoam lodge of Oceanlake conferring the Rebekah degree on three candidates.

A beautiful drill by Vernonia FL Girls club #67 was enthusiastically received. Black lights were used during the drill making the costumes appear most unusual. After this meeting the Lady Muscovies met in the recreation room of the IOOF temple.

The regular business was held Thursday morning. Joint installation of grand officers was held at Crystal Gardens Thursday afternoon, after which the group adjourned.

Mrs. Miller Named. Alda Miller was appointed to act as district deputy president for the coming year by the new president, Olive Ramey.

Delegates attending from the Cottage Grove lodge for the sessions were Alice Conner, Gladys Hatch, Emma Smith, and Alda Miller. Leita Stewart and Etella Kiker attended Monday and Tuesday sessions and returned to Cottage Grove Tuesday evening.

Grand lodge in 1953 will be held in Portland.
