Rebekahs Pay Visit To Lorane Lodge, 2nd

Twenty-two officers and members of the local Rebekah lodge motored to Lorane Monday night, June 2, in response to an invitation from the Lorane lodge, the occasion being the official visitation of the Rebekah Assembly President Mrs. Olive Ramey of Hillsboro.

An invitation was extended to the Lorane lodge to visit the local lodge on the next meeting night which will be June 6. An invitation has been extended to the Creswell Rebekah lodge for the same night. A very short business meeting is planned so the program will start about 8:45 and will be open to members and friends.

Highlight of the program will be drill put on by the Springfield drill team. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

According to the noble grand, Dorothy Lyon, the first meeting in July of the local Rebekah lodge will be omitted as it comes on July 4, which is a legal holiday.

WCTU TO MEET JUNE 5

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. N. E. Compton, Thursday afternoon, June 5. The meeting will be at 2 o'clock.

Ladies wishing to attend are to meet at the store west of the bridge on West Main for transportation.

Reflections.

HE VOWED TO BE RICH

When John Schaffer finished High School he worked for $18.00 a week. He proudly told his mother, "When I'm paid I'll buy you the finest handbag I can find," and promised his steady girl, "an arm load of red rose buds." He bought a bag, not the finest, nor the best, not even good; he had a dollar left. He bought a box of candy, handed it to his sweetheart, turned on his heel and vowed, "I'm going to be rich so I can buy gifts, I choose, for every friend I have."

He devoted every hour, of every day for forty years, to achieve his goal. His sweetheart was forgotten, friends were stepped on, pushed aside, used as rungs to climb his ladder of wealth. He achieved his goal. His parents were gone. His friends were gone. His health was gone. As he lay in bed he told his nurse, "When I was young I vowed to be rich, to give expensive gifts to my parents and to my friends; I have neither, nothing but something I cannot enjoy."

New BPW Officers Installed, Formal Ceremonies 2nd

New officers of Business and Professional Women's club were installed in formal ceremonies Monday night in Friendship hall of the Methodist church. The event followed a dinner attended by over 40 members.

Installing officer was Mrs. Frank B. Cooper, former Cottage Grove resident and charter member of the club. She now lives in Portland.

Officers installed included Lenora Pyburn, president, who received the gavel from outgoing president, Hazel Welden. Others were Nancy Robbins, first vice president; Julia Jederman, second vice president; Sharon Bush, recording secretary; Nordell Wilder, corresponding secretary, and Lois Rice, treasurer.

Mrs. Welden was presented a past president's pin and given a gift by her other outgoing officers.

Compliments Club

Mrs. Cooper, in a talk given after the dinner, complimented the club on its 11 years of accomplishment, commending it especially for starting the hospital project and recently finishing a drive for funds to purchase a cardiograph machine for the hospital. She also said that "having 68 members is a real tribute."

Also honored were six other charter members present besides Mrs. Cooper. They included Mesdames H. A. Hagen, William Prager, L. J. McLaughlin, Nell Bukowski, Karl Mills and Miss Opal Wagner.

Furnishing entertainment for the program were Stenis Stokes and Bob Dalberg, high school students, who played several numbers on the trumpet accompanied at the piano by Mary Lou Wolfard. They were introduced by Mildred Coiner, BPW music chairman.

All outgoing officers and committee chairmen were presented gifts by Mrs. Welden.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edgar Newton (Shirley Jean Arne) whose wedding was an event of June 1 on the lawn at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Arne, Delight Valley. They will be at home at 970 1/2 Van Buren avenue, Eugene, after June 13.

Miss Shirley Arne Is June Bride In Garden Wedding

Miss Shirley Jean Arne became the bride of Walter Edgar Newton Sunday afternoon, June 1, in a lawn wedding with a background of rhododendrons and white lattice arch before a rock garden. Three spreading oak trees formed a canopy for the ceremony and many blooming summer flowers around the lawn added to the beauty of the setting. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. Hugh Peniston, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at two o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Arne, Delight Valley. Approximately 150 guests attended the ceremony and reception. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nancy Newton of Salem.

Preceding the ceremony a trio composed of Mrs. Edgar Sherrill, Shirley and Jean Ellen Sherrill sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Wicks, who also played the wedding music.

Bride Wears Eyelet Embroidery

Mr. Arne gave his daughter in marriage. Her full-length gown was of white eyelet embroidered organdy over white taffeta with fitted bodice and row of tiny pearl buttons from neckline to waist. Peter Pan collar and cap sleeves. Her dress was fashioned by Mrs. Roy Hands. An elbow-length net veil fell from a pearl-studded tiara. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid with streamers of white satin ribbon festooned with white stephanotis. For "something old," she carried an heirloom handkerchief; her "something borrowed" was her Bible which was covered with white eyelet organdy while a blue garter was worn for "something blue."

Mrs. Darrel Arne was matron of honor. She wore a turquoise dotted Swiss dress over the same colored taffeta. Her dress was styled with a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. Her headdress was of white tulle and pink and orchid sweetpeas.

C. L. Cook of Eugene was best man, and ushers were Darrel Arne, Dean Snauer, Willard Arne and Dick Michaud.

Little flower girl was Carrie Lou Sherrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sherrill of Delight Valley. Her full-length gown was pink dotted Swiss over white and duplicated the bride's gown. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and wore pink blossoms in her hair. Ringbearer Hugh Newton of Eugene carried the rings on a white satin pillow for the double ring ceremony.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue two-piece dress with white accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore an aqua crepe dress. Both ladies wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

Reception On Lawn

The reception was also held on the lawn of the Arne home. White hawthorne and syringa decorated the bride's table. Serving at the table were Mrs. G. E. Finnerty and Mrs. C. T. Ross, while Mesdames Roy Hands, Larry Brumfield and Louis Layng served coffee and punch. Kathryn Ross served ice cream. Mrs. Willard Arne and Miss Shirley Sherrill were in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Henry Snauer and Miss Darlene Layng received the gifts.

For a motor trip to Washington, Mrs. Newton wore a navy blue pleated shantung dress with white accessories and her wedding orchid.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and Oregon State college; a member of the Dorena Grange, Lane Pomona Grange and Oregon State Grange.

Out-Of-Town Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wheeler and daughter, Allene, of Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Halderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bailey and family; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Schweiger, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. B. The South Lane Stamp Society was represented at the annual Pacific International Stamp Exhibition in Seattle May 30, 31 and June 1 by Loren Lind, delegate, and Bill Randall, alternate. The exhibition was held at Hotel New Washington, and was sponsored by the Northwest Federation of Stamp Clubs.

Over 300 frames of stamps were in the exhibition. Francis Cardinal Spellman's collection "Meditations in Miniature" was a highlight of the show.

Mary Lou Wiese Heads Rainbows

During the formal installation of Rainbow officers May 26, 23 girls were installed by the outgoing worthy advisor, Carmen Grewelle. Mrs. Edgar Rickard, mother advisor, performed the ceremony of transferring the worthy advisor's crown to Mary Lou Wiese.

Mary Lou introduced her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Ward, a former worthy advisor and a charter member, her grandmother, Mrs. George Jacobsen, and her younger sister, Earline to the assembly. A reception was held after the installation.

At the regular meeting before the installation, the Eastern Star asked the assembly to provide entertainment on June 5 for guests from the White Star. Mary Lou Wolfard and Carol Gard volunteered to play a piano and instrumental duet.

Those girls taking paper bags to the hospital for the next two weeks are Carmen Grewelle, Mary Lou Wiese, Marjorie Denney and Carol Roddy.

New officers are as follows: Mary Lou Wiese, worthy advisor; Rosemary Rickard, associate worthy advisor; Rowena Miller, charity; Catharine Heath, cheer; Phyllis Higdon, faith; Yvonne Chaffee, drill leader; Joan Webb, musician; Verna Eastman, chaplain; Carol Oviatt, confidential officer; Barbara Throop, outer observer; Sandra Sue Carlson, reporter; Hazel Roy, choir director; Patsy Pynes, historian; Mary McCoy, keeper of the jewels; Joyce Kelly, love; Carol Gard, religion; Ethel DeBerry, nature; Roberta Rickard, immortality; Gail Forrester, fidelity; Marjorie Denney, patriotism; Roberta Wells, service; Wanda Dawson and Carol Roddy, pages.

Mrs. Richard Lindner, who before her marriage on May 31, was Miss Joy Grimstad. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lindner are on the local high school faculty, and will return to their duties in the fall. They are attending summer school at the University of Washington, Seattle.

Miss Joy Grimstad, Richard Lindner Wed in Portland

The Central Lutheran church in Portland was the scene May 31 for the wedding of Miss Joy Grimstad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Grimstad of Tigard, to Richard Lindner of Seattle. The Rev. Arne Christianson, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony at eight o'clock in the evening. Bouquets of summer flowers decorated the church. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride chose a white slipper satin gown with full-length train. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls. Her seed pearl crown held her lace-edged full-length illusion veil. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

The bridegroom was a graduate of the University of Oregon and member of Chi Omega sorority. She is vocal instructor at the local high school. Mr. Lindner is a graduate of the University of Washington and attended Cornish School of Music, Seattle, for two years. He was librarian last year at the local high school and will teach English the coming year.

Those attending the wedding and reception from Cottage Grove were: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Caldwell, Claudette Kime, Lenore Porter, Carmen Grewelle, Carolyn Moore, Jean Crepeau, Wes Malcolm and John Harrison.
