

Dependents Told Allotment Raises To Be Automatic

"Sit tight, don't write." That is the advise of Lt. Col. C. E. Myrick, Army finance officer in Seattle, to all dependents of enlisted men and women in the Northwest who are entitled to increased Class Q allotments under the new military pay raise. In the majority of cases, he explained, these increases will be automatic and inquiries will serve only to delay administration processes.

The Class Q allotment consists of an amount contributed by the individual enlisted man, which remains the same, and the basic allowance for quarters, which is increased 14 percent.

The first Class Q check in the increased amount will be mailed early in September and will cover August. The increase in quarters allowance for May, June and July will be paid directly to the serviceman, together with his regular pay increase of 4 percent.

Hiway Changes Obliterate Landmarks

Highway travelers going south will note some radical changes brought about in the construction of the Divide-Anlauf section of the Pacific highway. Old landmarks are obliterated to make way for a right of way down the squiggling Pass Creek. The Shady Brook Auto camp is gone along with the old Comstock store to the south, and a few changes have been made at Landon's, once a famous tourist place. Hills will be cut down to size and valleys filled to make way for the new highway, which will cross Pass creek frequently.

Top picture was taken by a Sentinel staff photographer showing a portion of the highway which will run east of the Curtin store about 100 yards. The bottom picture was taken a few hundred yards south from where the old Comstock store stood and is looking south.

OSC to Confer Record Number Of Ph.D. Degrees

Oregon State College—An all-time record number of doctor's degrees will be conferred at the 83rd annual commencement exercises at Oregon State college Monday, June 9.

Of the 35 doctor's degrees to be granted, 31 are doctor of philosophy degrees—the highest academic degree attainable—and four doctor of education degrees. A total of 1197 students are candidates for degrees. Of this number 963 are candidates for bachelor degrees and 204 for advanced degrees.

Both the graduation exercises and the baccalaureate services will be held again this year in the spacious OSC coliseum. The graduation exercises will be at 10 a.m. June 9 and the baccalaureate services at 11 a.m. Sunday, June 8.

Dr. Ralph C. Walker, pastor of the First Baptist church of Portland for the past 11 years, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

Following a long-standing custom at OSC, there will be no main commencement speaker, but Al L. Grant of Baker, will speak briefly as representative of the state board of higher education, and President A. L. Strand, after conferring degrees, will extend a final word to the class of 1952.

Three former Oregon State classes will hold reunions in connection with commencement week end. These are the classes of 1902 which with all classes previous to that time form the Golden Jubilee association, the 40-year-class of 1912 and the silver jubilee group of 1927. Each class will hold a luncheon Saturday noon, June 7, and all will join in a reunion banquet that night.

The school of engineering will have the largest number of graduating seniors with 207. Business and technology ranks second with 168, followed by agriculture with 173, science 134, education 116, home economics 71, forestry 61, pharmacy 54 and nursing education 9.

Of the advanced degrees, 8 are masters of arts, 118 masters of science, 32 masters of education, 3 masters of forestry, 4 masters of home economics and 1 a mechanical engineer professional degree.
