MEMORY LANE

FORGET-ME-NOT NECKLACES
Remember when forget-me-not necklaces were fashionable? They were usually made of tiny blue beads with a yellow center. Especially loved by little girls, it was a fad that came in during the days of white dresses and sashes, then disappeared over night. Remember?

SMITH'S FUNERAL CHAPEL

Former Residents Mark 60th Wed Anniversary 28th

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Means, formerly of London community now of Eugene, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on June 28 with a family reunion dinner served at the River Road Women's clubhouse, Eugene. The nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Means were present for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Means moved to Eugene from the London area 10 years ago. The decade before had been spent at London where they observed their golden wedding anniversary in 1922.

They were married at Jonesboro, Ark., July 3, 1892. Mr. Means was engaged in carpentry and contracting while also operating a farm. He is now retired, but operated a cabinet shop in Eugene as late as 1948. His father and grandfather had been carpenters and builders; his six sons are associated with building, either as architects or contractors and carpenters.

The sons and daughters are: Raymond Elsworth Means, Stillwater, Okla., professor of architecture at Oklahoma A&M College; Perry George Means, Reno, Nev., architect; Roy Valentine Means, Redmond, (formerly of Cottage Grove) builder and contractor; Glen Eddie Means, Eugene, building foreman; Mrs. Jack Richards, Eugene, whose husband is with the Lane County road department; Virgil Lawrence Means, Spokane, construction superintendent; Kenneth Carl Means, Eugene, construction foreman; Mrs. Roger Iles, Coolidge, Ariz., whose husband is with the Indian Service; Mrs. William Star, Evanston, Ill., whose husband is a professor of foreign languages at Northwestern University.

All were accompanied by their families. Perry Means, second son, prepared and published a booklet of family history and pictures which he brought to the celebration to mark the occasion.

N OF W PLAN PICNIC

At the regular meeting of the Neighbors of Woodcraft on July 1, a picnic was planned for July 20 to be held at the Wilson Creek Recreation area.

Marie Story and Mildred Teich will serve on the refreshment committee at the next lodge meeting August 5.

MR. AND MRS. MYRON EVERETT YEAROUS (Mary Perkins) were married July 6 at the Methodist church. They are on a wedding trip to California, and will be at home after July 14 on Lessell Heights.

Nylon Marquisette Worn by July Bride

Miss Mary Perkins chose a floor-length dress of white embroidered nylon marquisette for her wedding Sunday, July 6, to Myron Everett Yearous. Her dress was made by her aunt, Mrs. Albert Oberfell of Oakridge. The full skirt had two tiers of nylon marquisette with a shorter overskirt of embroidered nylon marquisette. Her bodice was fitted with tiny buttons extending down the back. A seed pearl headpiece held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a nosegay of white rosebuds and stephanotis, centered with a lavender orchid. For an heirloom she carried a handkerchief which belonged to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Perkins.

The bride is the daughter of the late Raleigh W. Perkins and Mrs. Lulu Perkins and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Yearous, all of Blackbutte route, Cottage Grove.

The double ring candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Clark Enz at three o'clock at the Methodist church in a setting of red rosebuds and lighted tapers in candelabra. Lighted candles flanked by red sweetpeas were burning in the nave windows.

Preceding the ceremony, Leslie Hull of Vancouver, uncle of the bridegroom, sang "Always," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Hull, Mrs. Boyd Allen, organist, played the wedding marches. Sisters Attend Bride

The bride was attended by her sisters, Glendole Perkins of Solway, Minn., as maid of honor, and Phyllis Perkins as bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore a yellow organdy floor-length dress and carried a nosegay of yellow carnations centered with white rosebuds. Her headpiece was also of yellow carnations. The bridesmaid's dress was fashioned after the maid of honor's, but was lavender in color. She carried a nosegay of lavender carnations centered with white rosebuds and had a headpiece of the same flowers. Each attendant wore a rhinestone necklace and earrings, gifts from the bride.

Little flower girl was Leslie Jean Yearous, niece of the bridegroom. Her floor-length gown was of lime green organdy and her headpiece was pink rosebuds. She carried an ivory basket of rose petals and wore a locket, a gift from the bride.

The bride's mother wore a gray figured dress and corsage of white carnations while the bridegroom's mother chose a light blue dress and a white carnation corsage.

Gilbert Yearous, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, Ushers and taperlighters were William Hanks, cousin of the bride, and Ralph Allen of Gold Beach.

Reception in Church Parlor

The reception was held in the church parlor where low vases of sweetpeas were used for decoration on the bride's table. Mrs. Albert Oberfell of Oakridge, aunt of the bride, cut the cake, while another aunt, Mrs. Abe Hanks, and Mrs. Carl Buffington, sister of the bridegroom, poured. Mrs. L. E. Hudgins was in charge and assisting were Joyce Allen, Jean Oberfell, cousin of the bride, Marie Yearous, niece of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Alvin Allen. Mrs. Gilbert Yearous, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, had the guest book.
