

Miss Ida Rynearson Weds J. C. Isley At Church Ceremony

Miss Ida Marie Rynearson and J. C. Isley exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening, August 2, at the Methodist church which had been decorated with tall baskets of white gladioli and candelabra that held tall white candles. The Rev. Clark S. Enz, pastor of the church performed the ceremony at seven-thirty o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rynearson of Cottage Grove and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Isley of Torrance, Calif. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Rynearson.

Preceding the ceremony Larry Wolfard sang "Because" and "I Love Thee," accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Monroe, who also played the wedding march.

The bride wore a white marquisette ballerina-length dress and shoulder length veil with inset of seed pearls. Her flowers were white rosebuds centered with a white orchid. For "something old" she wore a gold necklace which belonged to her mother and was given to her by an aunt when she graduated from the eighth grade; "something borrowed" was her white gloves, also her mother's; "something blue" was a blue bow on the bride's underskirt,

MR. AND MRS. J. C. ISLEY (Miss Ida Marie Rynearson) were married August 2, at the Methodist church. The Rev. Clark S. Enz officiated. After a trip to the Oregon coast and northern California, the couple will live in Cottage Grove.

Reflections.

BUILDING FOLKLORE

Are intelligent people superstitious? A prominent scientist will not walk under a ladder. A doctor knocked on wood as he said, "I haven't had a cold..." The President of a Construction Company won a contract on a Friday. He wouldn't start work on "That unlucky day" but his superintendent did and that bridge has stood for 30 years. We develop nuclear fission yet refuse to use 13 as numeral on hotel rooms or to resignate a floor. Would you turn back if a black cat ran across your path?

Why do you wear a wedding ring? It came out of the belief in love potions. Why do you shake hands? Or kiss? These manifestations of affection began long before man was taught to express himself in words. This is folklore that came to us with our baby's milk; we are adding to it every day.

Who taught you to cook? Your mother. Who taught you to fish? Swing a baseball bat? Carry a hiker's pack? Split a log. Your father. Did you learn to drive a car by reading instructions? Someone showed you. Do you dance according to rules in a book? Someone taught you. As long as we teach by doing we are building folklore.

and a penny was worn in her shoe for good luck.

Miss LaVonne Huggahl attended the bride as maid of honor, and wore a gown identical to the bride's, but in pink. Her nosegay was pink rosebuds.

Little flower girl was Carey Formway of North Bend who wore a ballerina-length dress of blue net and lace and a crown of pink flowers in her hair. Boyd Bowles Jr. of Empire was ringbearer.

The bride's mother was attired in a light blue shantung dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Boyd Bowles, wore aqua with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Boyd Bowles was best man, and ushers were Albert Martin and Wesley Malcolm.

About 50 guests were present at the reception with Mrs. Percy Malcolm cutting the cake. Mrs. Vincent Mataga, sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Sanford Wiese poured the coffee. The base of the three-tiered wedding cake was surrounded by pink rosebuds and fern. Miss Marna Rynearson, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left for a wedding trip along the coast of Oregon and northern California. She wore an aqua suit with white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet. After August 11 the couple will be at home in Cottage Grove. He is employed at S. & P. Lumber Co., and she at Hall and Liston Insurance Agency. Both graduated from the local high school in the class of '52.

Unknown to him a copy of the "big thank you" from Ernest L. Anderson to the people of Glacier county, Mont., for their overwhelming primary vote for him for state senator was shown.

There were many pictures on display, little trinkets, letters and relics which reminded of days gone by. A hand school bell was used to call dinner, and "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow" was sung by the group.

Robert Lee Cox
Robert Lee Cox, 73, of Marcola, passed away in a Eugene hospital Wednesday, August 6, following a short illness. He was born in Arkansas, November 17, 1878, and was married in Cottage Grove in 1900 to Sophronia Lake, who preceded him in death in 1946.

Mr. Cox came to Oregon as a small child and to Cottage Grove in 1900. He moved to Marcola in 1918 and back to Cottage Grove in 1934. Later he moved to Philomath and in 1952 moved back to Marcola to make his home. He was a member of the Baptist church at Yoncalla.

Surviving are: one son, Clarence L. Cox of Portland; two daughters: Mrs. Merle Ann McDonald of Marcola and Mrs. Flossie Landers of Pendleton; nine grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; one brother, James Cox of Yoncalla, and two sisters: Mrs. Martha Marsh and Mrs. Cora Warren, both of Cottage Grove.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, August 9, at Mills Mortuary with the Rev. Clark S. Enz officiating. Interment will be in the local Masonic cemetery.

Two flies, breeding in early April, could be the progenitors of 191 septillion flies by late August if all offspring live.

History Given
Later some came from the Cottage Grove high school picnic held the same day at the Jefferson school, built near the same grounds where the old wooden school house which also served for the high school used to stand.

This was the only school house in Cottage Grove at that time, until later the west side grade school was built on the same grounds where now stands the new Cottage Grove hospital.

The growth of Cottage Grove is evidenced by its several up-to-date grade schools and its modern high school. In 1908, only 60 were in the high school and only eight graduated that year. Your reporter tried to get to the high school picnic also, for which she is eligible, but it was over when she arrived at the Jefferson school. Four people who wished to contact her went to the city park while she went to the Jefferson school. Later they came to her house and waited till she arrived home. They were Elsie Brewster Grant, of Portland; Esther Anderson Trunnell of Latham, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin of Bonanza, Oregon, all of whom had first attended the Cottage Grove high school picnic.

Pioneer Sears Descendants Celebrate 100th Anniversary of Trek to Oregon

By Mrs. Walter Downes

The descendants of Carral J. and Jane Sears held a family reunion at the Dorena Grange hall Sunday, August 3, to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the family in Oregon.

In 1848 C. J. Sears left Arkansas for the California gold rush, going around Cape Horn, returning to Oregon in 1850. He organized an immigrant train in 1851 of which he was made captain, starting west in April.

3 Receive Degrees At Hebron Grange

By Mrs. Gale Roby

Given the first and second degrees of obligation at the August 2 meeting of Hebron Grange were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harris and Joanne Stewart. Three more applications for membership were turned in for voting at the August 16 meeting, spurring on the Youth Drive for new members.

A visitor at the Saturday meeting of the grange was Cliff Bethune, a student at Northwest Christian college and pastor of Hebron church, who went as delegate of the community from the church and the Grange to attend the four day conference of the state of Oregon convention at Corvallis in mid-July. Mr. Bethune gave a report of the meeting.

All Faiths Represented

All denominations of religious faith in Oregon were represented at the Corvallis meeting with 200 delegates and their families attending. They were told that rural communities must keep their rural schools or lose their communities. Suggestions for holding together the communities were given in addition to the schools to include the country store, the country churches and community plans that include interests for young people and young married couples.

This Corvallis meeting was sponsored by Oregon State college, the Granges and Farmers Union.

Plans For Fair

Home Economics members were reminded of the August 19 meeting at the hall to make plans for the fair, and arrangements for the Grange food booth.

Wesley Stewart was reported home from the hospital where he received treatment for a woods injury.

A youth meeting and evening of recreation is to be held at the hall August 9. Youth visitors and prospective new members are invited to attend. Members of the refreshment committee, Mabel Keif and Thelma Harris, ask those attending to bring salad and sandwiches. Coffee and cool aid will be furnished.

Mrs. Lyle Montgomery and Mrs. Inez Cramer are on the hall cleaning committee for August.

18 Grandchildren

There are 18 living grandchildren of C. J. Sears. Thirteen of those were present at the picnic. There were also present, 10 great grandchildren; 13 great great grandchildren and one great great great grandchild who is Gregory Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sears of Cottage Grove.

A telegram was read from Dr. and Mrs. Andy Sears and family of Jacksonville, Fla., wishing everyone happiness and regretting their absence.

The Sears family hopes to repeat this picnic each year from now on.
