Charades Entertains

The opening of the literary program, presented by Mrs. Raymond Wicks, proved a point of which the women have been sure for some time, namely, that the men are the "blow-hards." Each member had to blow up a paper bag and break it, with the men's team winning the race. Charades of poems were very interesting, with the following poems being pantomimed: "The Barefoot Boy," with Michael and Mrs. Stanley Bonkowski; "Trees," with Mrs. Ruth St. Clair; "The Duel," with Mrs. Walter Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Houck furnishing the sound effects; "Paul Revere's Ride," with Byron Houck; "Bells," with Stanley Bonkowski; "The Man with the Hoe," with Philip Lake; a reading, "The Shoring Husband," by Mrs. Raymond Wicks; "Home," with Mrs. Ed Sherrill, Jean Ellen Sherrill and Michael Bonkowski;

and a solo, "Dreaming," by Jean Ellen Sherrill.
