We Are Teachers

Redecorate our house and others in our block will too. Plant shrubs and flowers and our neighbor will follow our example. Make OK stops at a boulevard and the man back of us will too. Be irascible, or gracious, at the scene of an auto accident and the other person will reflect our attitude. Greet a sales person with a smile then watch a smile form on his lips. Be honorable, truthful and kind; your son will do as dad does.

To have good neighbors be one. A man complained about his neighbors, sold out, came to a new community where he told all who would listen about his terrible neighbors. In considering the purchase of a house he asked, "What kind of neighbors will we have?" The answer was, "The same as you left."

We are teachers; others emulate us.
