Large Steer Show Predicted for P-I; Division Judges Set

North Portland—The largest steer show in many years is widely predicted for the 1952 Pacific International October 4-11, according to Walter A. Holt, manager.

As a feature of the National Hereford show, which is being held at the P-I this year the national association is offering $1,000 for the Grand Champion Steer of the entire show is a Hereford. The same offer is being made by the American Aberdeen-Angus association if the Grand Champion steer is of that breed. If the Grand Champion Steer is a Shorthorn the national association of that breed will make an award of $100.00.

In anticipation of this unusually tough competition the P-I management has arranged for one of the best known steer judges in the nation to handle the placing of those classes. The steer judge will be Glen Bratcher from the Animal Husbandry Department of Oklahoma A & M College at Stillwater.

Steers will be judged Sunday, October 5th, at 9:00 a.m.

Mounties To Perform

The night show this year will be returning to the Horse Show-Rodeo and as a special attraction the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will be appearing at each of the 11 performances.

One of California's best known Dairy Cattle authorities will judge Guernseys at the exposition. The judge will be C. R. Knight, general manager of the Peacock

Fair Will Crown 'Queen of Kitchen'

SALEM—A "Queen of the Kitchen" contest, a feature of special interest to the state's homemakers, will be a highlight of the 87th Oregon State Fair opening here August 30 for an eight-day run.

Based entirely on entries in the culinary divisions of the 1952 Fair premium book, now available to all requesting it, the contest will select one entrant as the Queen of the Kitchen. She will be awarded a number of outstanding prizes.

One of the top prizes will be a complete set of the famous Guardian Service aluminumware for cooking, valued at $180. Other prizes will be added to this valuable award.

Dairies of Bakersfield, Calif. Guernseys will be judged Tuesday, October 7.

Sheep Judge Named

An Iowa Stockman of national prominence, Donald Pullin of Waterloo, Iowa, will be one of the sheep judges at the exposition. The other judge will be one of the best known sheep breeders and judges in the west, Ronald Hogg of Salem, Ore. Both of these men have handled repeat performances at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

Sheep classes will be judged beginning Sunday, October 5 and continuing through Tuesday, October 7.

Dr. A. O. Shaw, chairman of the Department of Dairy Science at Washington State college has accepted the invitation to judge the Jersey and Ayrshire classes.

The Jersey classes will be judged Monday, October 6, at 9 a.m. and Ayrshires on Wednesday, October 8.

Deadline for all entries is September 20.

Oregon State College—The summer sprucing up program at Oregon State college this year is emphasizing improvement of grounds, parking areas and streets along with a limited amount of new building and remodeling.

Only major campus construction underway is that of the new west wing of the home economics building. Now approximately one-fourth completed, the new wing will add 38,000 square feet of floor space and make possible an expanded program of instruction and research in foods, clothing, nutrition and housing.

Just completed and awaiting installation of equipment is the new animal diagnostic laboratory of the agricultural experiment station. Ready to be started is a new pre-fabricated stock judging structure which will be used for livestock instruction and student animal exhibits. Five new tennis courts also are planned.

The other new building is taking place at the physical plant headquarters where a series of warehouses is being put up to house campus equipment and materials. A special retaining wall to hold some 5000 tons of sawdust for the heating plant is now in place.

The men's gymnasium, used from 1915 until completion of the new coliseum in 1950, for inter-collegiate athletics, campus meetings and men's physical education is being remodeled into the center for men's p. e. and intramural athletics.

A long-range program for the remodeling has been drafted and work will be done over a period of years as funds become available. This year, a $100,000 contract has been let for the installation of a new filtration plant to serve the men's and women's swimming pools and for improvement of shower room equipment and facilities.

Full plans to start excavation of the new stadium just north of the coliseum have necessitated the establishment of new parking areas to handle sporting events in crowds. Three new lots are being prepared in that immediate area.

The grade school will start September 8, with the same teachers as last year teaching. Mr. Cantwell of Cottage Grove will teach the four upper grades and Mrs. Babcock of Portland will teach the primary room.

The kitchen has been finished and hot lunches will be served this year. Mrs. Olla Hill has been hired as the cook.

Over 100 relatives attended a family reunion picnic at the Champoeg Memorial State park near Newberg, Sunday. Those going from here were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keene, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Benston, Mrs. Frances Willey and daughter Ruby Faye, W. A. Keene and Herbie Cline.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schwarzer and son Danny attended a family reunion picnic near Wendling Sunday.

Jack Fraizer and Jim Keene are employed on the night shift at the Veneer plywood mill at Curtin.

A number of young folks are enjoying square dancing every Wednesday night at the new grade school gymnasium. All children are invited to attend.

Mrs. Russell Evans left for Medford Friday where she will work in the packing plant the rest of the summer.
