Mrs. R. G. Conner
Lorane correspondent

Fourteen members of the Lorane unit of Home Extension clubs met at the home of Mrs. John Sayles Thursday for a lesson on "Meat for Thrifty Meals," prepared by Mrs. Sayles and Mrs. L. N. Ashley.

Five thrifty meat dishes were prepared and later eaten for luncheon by the group. Only a salad and dessert were needed for a well balanced meal. Mrs. A. R. Barker and Mrs. B. F. Briggs were the other members of the serving committee for the day. "Jiggs Casserole," the old standby of corned beef and cabbage dressed up in a new role was much enjoyed by the group and received perhaps the most comment.

The next lesson will be a Christmas party at the grange hall. Roll call will be answered by "A Safety Precaution I Take."
