

CURTIN'S NEW, MODERN SCHOOL dedicated in recent ceremonies attended by school and townspeople. The new $44,000 structure, designed by Norris M. Gaddis of Eugene, has three classrooms, multipurpose room, kitchen, boiler room, storage closets and lavatories. Cement floors with radiant heat add to comfort of building. Floors are covered with asphalt tile. All classrooms are painted differently, and outside is red with white trim. School has new type dome skylights in roof. Contractor was E. A. Shannon of Roseburg.

Kay Wells Is County Mystery Play Set Jr. Red Cross Head For January 16th

Kay Wells, sophomore, has been elected President of the Lane County Jr. Red Cross. Kay's comment was, "It isn't anything spectacular." She must attend the Jr. Red Cross council meetings. The Red Cross enrollment drive started Monday. Every student is automatically a member after donating a few cents.

Several of the year's activities have been outlined. Pat Thomas is chairman heading a committee to make menu covers and tray favors for the Veterans' Hospital in Roseburg. Anna Ryland is in charge of a committee fixing baskets for needy people of the community on holidays. (Lions Roar)

That which is given with pride and estimation is rather an ambition than a bounty. Seneca.
