London Residents Go to California

By Mrs. Gale Roby Phone 792R1
 LONDON — As midsummer levels off for the last lap there is a quietness of activities. No logs are moving from the upper community with the exception of Wodards, who have rebuilt two of their bridges recently for hauling on their private road.
 Whatever the reason for spraying roadside shrubbery seems to have achieved only a marring of the scenery with usual green vegetation reduced to a shriveled brown.
 More people are moving away with Mr. and Mrs. Barney Woodward going to Canada before returning to California this fall for their usual winter sojourn with the California State nut harvest.

 Mrs. Nash Hughes and children are expected this week from Oklahoma to visit her parents, the Harold Abeenes. She is being accompanied by a family of friends.
 Heavy timbers are coming out from Cougar Bend, apparently from operations of a small mill.

 A-H club members of the London Camp Cookouts had an all night outing Saturday night at the Wilson Creek park at the lake, cooking their supper and breakfast outdoors and sleeping out under the stars.  Mr. and Mrs. Chris Pfaff are having deer troubles again this summer. It isn't just the garden they eat but the young trees the deer ruin by eating the foliage right down to bare stocks. Several of them graze with the sheep as if they belong and one even appropriated the front lawn with only one look of annoyance when someone came by and calmly continued to eat the grass.
 Arden Powell has the deer fooled at his house, at least so far. Previous years the deer ate his garden down by the creek. This year he planted the garden practically at the front door step.

Has This To Say:

It has always seemed so queer to us that a good union carpenter, or welder, or sawmill worker, or what-have-you, will insist on Union work and workers, right down to enforcing his demands with a picket line: and yet the same man will cheerfully "scab" on the union electrical worker, by doing electrical work "on the side."

Seems like a GOOD rule would work both ways.
