Saving a Dental Bill

We hope the city council will in the not too distant future consider adding fluorine to the city water supply for the beneficial effect it may have on our young population. We have never been able to understand why the addition of fluorine to water should be an issue, because such an addition would be both economical and beneficial and without harm to the individual. In fact we can't see where those who oppose the addition of fluorine to drinking water have any logical argument, because in the sections of the country where there is a natural supply of fluorine, the people are just as healthy. The only thing they don't have is big dental bills because fluorine cuts the tooth decay from 35 to 65 percent, according to the best authorities.

There is very little tooth decay in spots where natural fluorine abounds, notably in the vicinity of Hereford, Texas. Here the supply seems to be about right, but farther north where there appears to be an oversupply the only trouble encountered is motley teeth, but even those who may have the misfortune to have their teeth discolored have sound teeth and this is something that isn't found in western Oregon.

Authorities say the addition of the proper amount of fluorine will cut the tooth decay up to 65 percent, if administered over a period of time. What is funny to us is that some of the people who oppose the addition of fluorine to the water supply do not hesitate to go to the family physician and pay him for administering some of the new wonder drugs, the effects of which are not as well known as the addition of the chemical to the water supply.

The proper amount of fluorine in the water has the endorsement of the American Dental Association, the American Medical Association and the American Health Society. These organizations would not lend endorsement to a product without merit.

Special Adult Class

System of Higher Education—General Extension Division, an opportunity for all interested persons in the community to study and discuss the many problems of family and personal living. Areas and topics to be considered include: Influence of Early Childhood Period, The Disturbed Child—A Social-Political Problem, Adolescent Adjustment, Developmental Factors in Personal Adjustment, The Effect of Community Disorganization on the Family, Counseling and Guidance, You Too Are Growing Old, Educational Interpretation and Family Living From the Cradle to Old Age.

In order to provide the utmost service to families in the Cottage Grove area who are interested in attending the course, special arrangements have been made to permit attendance of husbands and wives or another family member on one registration for non-credit.

Fees as authorized for the course by the State System of Higher Education are chargeable on the basis of the three credit hours provided by the course at the rate of $8 per credit hour, if it is taken for credit. Registrants taking the course on a non-credit or listener basis are required to pay a fee of $12.

Registration may be accomplished at the first session of the course on January 11. Those interested may attend the first class period free of charge.

Further information on this and other courses in Cottage Grove may be obtained by contacting Miss Gertrude Brantover at 774.

American Officials Visit

Spain: All tourists attend a bull fight in Madrid. Also in Madrid they witnessed a military escort and parade in honor of American officials visiting Francisco Franco concerning the leasing of air bases in Spain by the United States. Toledo, Spain, is one of the two oldest cities in Europe and the center of high grade steel manufacturing.

Portugal: In Lisbon they saw castles which were built in the seventh and 14th centuries with the same furnishings intact.

Sintra: Here they visited Estrella on the Mediterranean, a famous tourist resort. From Portugal short plane stops were made in French West Africa, Liberia and the Gold Coast enroute to the Belgian Congo. At Leopoldville they crossed the Congo river to Brazzaville in French Equatorial Africa.

Diamond and Gold Mines: Their next stop was Johannesburg where they went all through the diamond mine mill and gold mine mill, the latter being one and a half miles deep. They were told that about 40 percent of the world's gold comes from Johannesburg. Here the native mine workers put on dances for their Sunday's recreation, each tribe being dressed in the native costumes of which there were many. They visited the Kruger and Hluhluwe national parks where many wild animals are running loose, including elephants, lions, giraffes, zebras, baboons, hyenas, hippopotamuses, ostriches, wart hogs, impalas, buffalos, wild-beasts, water buck and rhinoceros (white and black).

Swaziland and Zululand were very primitive and with natives in their native costumes, and very little of that. They also visited Durban, a resort and farming country, and Cape Town and Cape of Good Hope.

Rhodesia was the next country of interest where the beautiful Victoria Falls, a mile in length, were the main attraction. From here a jet plane was taken to Entebbe and Kampala.

See Watusi and Pigmies: Uganda: Here the equator crosses the airlanding strip at Entebbe Airport and cows have horns three feet long. From Uganda they went to Belgian Congo where they saw the Watusi (men 7½ feet tall who were in the picture King Solomon's Mines); also pigmies and plateaus (Saucer Lips); headwaters of the Nile where there were over 1000 hippopotamuses, 500 crocodiles, lions and many elephants, including a baby elephant.

Kenya: The Browns made a trip to Nairobi, Kenya, where they visited Aberdare National park full of many wild animals and stayed one night in the Tree Top hotel, which is built in the top of trees. People reach the hotel by way of a ladder which is pulled up after them to keep the wild animals from reaching them. At night they could see the wild animals under the floodlights eating salt under the hotel.

Here they had British soldiers as escorts due to the trouble in the Mau Mau district. They were within hearing distance of gunshot of the British soldiers and the King's African riflemen who were controlling the Mau Maus. In this place all white settlers carry guns for their own protection from the Mau Maus and natives carry spears to protect themselves. They drove through Nyeri and Fort Hall, centers of the Mau Mau trouble.

From Kenya to Anglo Egyptian Sudan and to Cairo, Egypt, where they visited the sphinx, pyramids, Mosque of Mohammed Ali, the bazaars where they saw the natives making silver and gold silk brocade.

The total flying time in Africa from Cape Town to Cairo, the full length of the country, was 14 hours and 25 minutes, a distance of 4781 miles. About three-fourths of the trip was made by jet planes, traveling eight miles per minute and approximately eight miles high.

Visit Jerusalem: On to Jordan which is a part of old Palestine and Trans Jordan and No Man's Land in Jerusalem and Israel. In Jerusalem and near the Temple Mount, Church of All Nations, Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Stations of the Cross, Mosque of Omar and Church of the Nativity in which the Grotto (manger) is located in the lower level. Jericho, the Dead Sea and Jordan river were all points of interest.

In Lebanon they visited Beirut, a city on the extreme east end of the Mediterranean where the largest American university outside the U. S. is located; also Cedars of Lebanon about 100 miles from Beirut, where timbers for Solomon's temple were secured.

In Syria one of the largest mosques in the world was visited; from there to Damascus, the oldest city in the world.

The Browns said they thought they had seen dates before but changed their minds when at Basra, Iraq, where 80 percent of the world's supply is grown. Next country on their itinerary was Pakistan and the Mohammedans' capital, Karachi, only five years old and the newest country with 75,000,000 population. From Pakistan they flew to India.

Mill Employees Dance at Dorena New Year's Eve

By Jeanette Kelly Phone 1167K1

DORENA—A large group of Booth-Kelly employees and friends enjoyed New Year's Eve at the community hall where dancing was the feature of the evening followed by a delicious buffet supper.

Mrs. Lee Giles returned to her home here Tuesday of last week after spending the holidays with relatives at Winters, Calif.

Mrs. Lee Thomason entrained Saturday for Oakland, Calif., where she was called by the serious illness of a relative. She will visit a sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Finch and other relatives while there.

The Sunshine Circle of the Row River Valley church received a thank-you note for the gifts they sent "Aunt Fannie," Goude who is now at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Rissue of Cottage Grove. She stated in her note that she had recently been ill.

Darrel Garoutte returned to his home here Saturday after spending several days in a Eugene hospital.

Folk Return From Hawaii: New Year's day dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Aveline Wicks included her two sons and families: Mr. and Mrs. Eston Wicks and three children of Cottage Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wicks and baby daughter, who have just returned from Hawaii where Richard was on duty with the U. S. Navy, and Mr. and Mrs. William Olsen and family of Delight Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Olsen

Gandhi. Of special interest here were the forts and temples. Next trip was to Agra to Taj Mahal, a celebrated mausoleum built of white marble. In Calcutta the Buddhist temples and burning ghats attracted their attention. Here the cows, monkeys, snakes, peacocks and pigeons are sacred and the people very poor.

Siam is known for its beautiful Buddhist temples in various colors of mosaic work. In Bangkok the Browns visited the floating markets, Siamese dancing and boxing, where it is legal to box by kicking as well as with their hands. Generally speaking in Siam the people are clean, friendly and happy.

Logging of teak wood in Chaingmi was capably done by elephants using their tusks to pile the logs for scaling as well as other logging purposes. A Life photographer was also at Chaingmi taking pictures of the logging elephants for that magazine and was snapped several times in the Browns' pictures. Here they had dinner with the American Consul and wife, who arranged the trip into the teak wood forest. A plane trip was made into Lampang, Siam, where Chinese Nationalists are transported from China to Lampany by way of Burma. In Chaingmi the government is constructing a building for confiscated illicit opium.

From Singapore they drove to Malaya and the next stop was the Philippine Islands and Manila, where they viewed the buildings destroyed by World War II, the rice paddies, farms and saw the world famous bamboo pipe organ. See Firecrackers Made

The next cities of interest were Hong Kong and Kowloon, China, where the carving of ivory and teak wood furniture and manufacturing of rattan products is done. The manufacturing of firecrackers at Macau was very worthwhile. Here they were guests of two Chinese manufacturers, Li & Fung Company and Yick Loong Company at typical Canton-Chinese dinners. They also attended the 11th Industrial Exposition in Hong Kong.

After their visit in Hong Kong, they flew to Japan, Tokyo where they found to be a very modern city like the larger cities in the U. S. More Buddhist temples and shrines were visited at Nikko. Next stop was Kyoto and the American Army post in Otsu where Sgt. Al Graz, husband of Pauline Graz, niece of the Browns, was visited. From Kyoto to Osaka and Honolulu, the last stop before returning to Portland.

In Honolulu they were met by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sheldon, Billy and Bobby of Cottage Grove and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bowles and son Kerry of Tappanish, Wash., and all spent Christmas together and returned to Portland December 29. The Browns came to Cottage Grove with the Sheldons for a visit and showed their interesting pictures to relatives and friends.

Sadie VanSchoiack Long Time Resident Passed Away Sun.

Mrs. Sadie VanSchoiack of 1059 East Main Street passed away Sunday at the Cottage Grove hospital following a short illness. Sadie Champion was born December 9, 1866, in Angolica, Wis. She came west in 1875 with her father, brother and sister, (her mother having passed away when she was five).

They traveled by emigrant train to Sacramento where they stopped for three days, then by steamboat to Portland, Ore., by way of San Francisco. They were followed by many sharks on this part of the journey but landed safely in Portland where they stopped for two days. They continued on to Eugene by train where they lived for a short time, following which their father took up a homestead on Mosby creek, east of Cottage Grove.

Sadie was then cared for by Mr. and Mrs. John England with whom she made her home until her marriage to Cage A. VanSchoiack on September 30, 1884. She lived the remainder of her life on Row river near Cerro Gordo until the government bought the property for the Dorena lake. They then moved to 1059 East Main where her husband passed away in 1946.

Eight children were born to this union, six of whom survive: Ray N. of Cottage Grove, Clifford A. of Eugene, Nona Kelly of Cottage Grove, Lottie Hills of Eugene, Belle Skelly of Ashland and Arna Elfving of Cottage Grove. She is also survived by 11 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at Mills Mortuary at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, January 7, with the Rev. Sydney Gaither officiating. Burial will be in the local IOOF cemetery.

Patrick Mangan: Patrick James Mangan, 19-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mangan, Blackbutte route, passed away at a hospital in Eugene January 1, 1954, following a long illness. He was born in Cottage Grove June 4, 1953. Besides his parents he is survived by three brothers and two sisters: Frank, Joseph, Timothy, Mary and Constance, all at home, and many other relatives.

Mass of the Angels was held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Cottage Grove, Monday, January 4, at 9 a.m. Father Carl Mai officiated with Smith Funeral Chapel in charge. Interment was in Mt. Calvary cemetery in Eugene.

The cook was a good cook, as cooks go; and as cooks go she went. —"Saki" (H. H. Munro)

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wicks entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tryk and Susan and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Larsen and Judy New Year's Eve.

Word was received in this community the later part of last week of the death of John Holstrom of Eugene. He was born in this vicinity and spent most of his youth here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wicks took a trip up the Willamette highway Sunday where they spent an enjoyable afternoon in the snow.

Kenneth Bush of Cottage Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kelly and Joyce spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe Johnson.

Wind Causes Power Outage: The high wind of last Saturday caused quite a lengthy power outage in the evening when a tree fell across the line above Culp Creek.

Residents of this community are urged to remember the next meeting of the School club, January 8 at 8 p.m. at the school where an amateur program is to be presented. Franklin Stewart and Glenn Perkey are the committee in charge and again ask your cooperation in securing numbers for the program. If you have talent in any line or know someone who has, please contact either member of the committee. Everyone is welcome and ladies please bring pie.

Mrs. Jessie Vining and Pheobe spent several days last week in Cottage Grove at the home of Mrs. Lillian Doolittle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Horn have a nephew from Nebraska visiting at their home.

Mrs. Billie Heath will leave by plane for Alaska Thursday evening at 6:10 p.m. to be with her husband who is stationed there with the U. S. Army.

At the present time the Teeter's Creek bridge has been removed by the county bridge crew and a new one is being built to replace it. Your reporter understands that on the completion of this one, the Rat Creek bridge will then undergo the same process. This makes it very difficult for the school buses as they are forced to back track as are the delivery men for the local grocery, school teachers and the men riding to work on the buses. Had this taken place a week earlier fewer people would have been inconvenienced.

Your correspondent wishes to thank all who gave her news last year and hopes every week will be as good in the future as this week was. She will also be glad to take care of your subscription needs whatever they may be, or your ads to be published, announcements, etc.

A Tribute to . . . OUR SCHOOL TEACHERS!

Today, as no time before in history, the school teacher is recognized as the builder of tomorrow's America! With juvenile delinquency increasing apace, and foreign ideologies creeping into our school books, it is high time that glowing tribute was paid to these patient men and women who instruct our young. Let's remember that teachers are human beings, not machines. Let's give them the support and confidence they so richly deserve. Let's attend PTA meetings and contribute something more than children. This community is fortunate in having such fine schools and outstanding educators. We applaud their work and their good American achievements!
