

Bride Wears Lace and Satin at Church Wedding, Couple Living at Carmel

Miss Carleta Vay Hulbert chose a chapel-length dress of lace over satin for her wedding on New Year's Eve to Pvt. Edward David Lovegren, both of Eugene, at the First Assembly of God, Eugene. The Rev. E. E. Krogstad, pastor of the First Assembly of God, officiated at the ceremony, in a setting of palms, cedar, white chrysanthemums and candles against a background of white lattice work.

The bride's fingertip veil fell from a tight fitting cap, and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a white Bible. She was given in marriage by a family friend of the Hulberts, Leo Faure. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. C. Hulbert and the late Mr. Hulbert and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. D. Lovegren and the late Mr. Lovegren. Both families formerly lived in Cottage Grove.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Lois Hulbert of Eugene, and bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Nunamaker of Salem and Mrs. Jay C. Wilson of Eugene, all in white net and taffeta gowns with short jackets and carried bouquets of green leaves that had been cupped to give the effect of gladiolus blooms, thus carrying out the green and white effect.

Best man was Kenneth Lovegren, brother of the bridegroom, and ushering were James Shade of Eugene and Paul and Don Standberg of Portland, cousins of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Lawrence Swain played the wedding march and accompanied the Rev. Lorn Triplett of Nebraska who sang "O Promise Me," "Perfect Love" and "I Come to Thee."

Candlelighters were Miss Sharon Johnson of Hermiston and Miss Cheryl Hulbert, sister of the bride, both wearing white dresses with green sashes.

The reception was held in the Christ Ambassadors chapel, with Mrs. M. O. Standberg of Portland, aunt of the bridegroom, cutting the cake, and another aunt, Mrs. A. Diller, assisting. Mrs. James Shade presided at the punch bowl and Miss Mary Lou Newton was at the coffee urn. Mrs. Harold Bressler and Misses Patricia and Blanche Drew were in charge of gifts, while Miss Lois Munger passed the guest book. Assisting were Mrs. Art Newby, Miss Helen Newton, Miss Ruth Prinzing and Miss Naomi Hixson. Mrs. Clarence Payne was in charge of the reception. Red poinsettias were about the room.

The bride wore an oxford gray suit with white hat and gloves and her white wedding orchid on her wedding trip to California. They are now at home at Carmel, near Camp Ord, where he is stationed in Classifications and Assignments. Before entering the service, the bridegroom attended the University of Oregon, from which he was graduated last June. He also graduated from the local high school. He is associated with his brother in Lovegren Lumber Company. Mrs. Lovegren is a graduate of Moderne Beauty College of Salem.

Coming from a distance for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hulbert, Riverside, Calif., the Rev. and Mrs. Leo Faure, Blythe, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Standberg, Mr. and Mrs. Don Standberg, Paul Standberg, Mrs. Al Diller and daughter, Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Severs, daughter, Linda, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Linde of Newberg, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson of Cherry Grove; Mrs. Hilma Lovegren of Cherry Grove; Mr. and Mrs. George Linde of Walton and Mrs. Reuben Johnson and daughter, Sharon, of Hermiston.

REFLECTIONS

Dry Leaves and People

I watched dry leaves float to the ground or become embroiled in a smother of action as a breeze picked them up, tossed, rolled and slid them here and there. Some people are like those leaves.

A speaker on a soap box or rostrum utters words that send our thoughts sliding, rolling into a smother of confusion. Like those leaves we pass over hard surface facts and land in a heap.

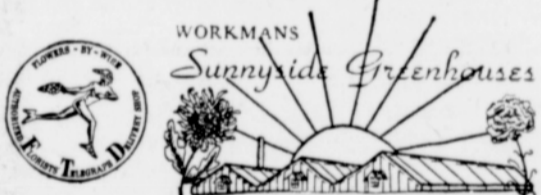

A six year old boy asked his father, "Why is it light?" His father explained, "The sun is our source of light," and the boy was satisfied. A few days later the sky was overcast. The boy looked at the shadowless room, the leader's sky, turned to his father, shook his head. "You're wrong. No sun. Light though." That boy isn't going to be a leaf; he's going to think through a subject before he accepts it.

Don't be a leaf. Sift and evaluate words; go against the wind, if your destination lies in that direction.
