Who gets the money Standard takes in?

Goods and services—Crude oil was a big item. To supplement our own production we bought $324,743,000. It was spent with thousands of firms, large and small.

Wear and tear, depreciation and upkeep cost $157,834,000. Part of it will replace worn-out facilities, but millions went to workmen, technicians.

New construction, such as refinery facilities, to make more and better products, cost $145,000,000. This helped meet builders' payrolls.

Exploration to replace oil our customers use is a vital operation. Our stepped-up search for new oil reserves cost $79,000,000 in 1953.

Employees' wages for time worked took $163,947,000 of our income. Another $43,000,000 went for employee benefits for Standard Oilers.

Taxes paid by Standard to U. S. states, counties and cities amounted to $106,300,000—enough to buy plenty of fire trucks, schools, bridges.

112,000 shareholders' profits came from what was left. They received about 5 1/2¢ on each dollar's worth of stock. Total: $86,020,000.

Your picture belongs here, too. Because most of the $1,156,757,000 Standard Oil Company of California took in last year ended up with you—the public. Whether one of the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of checks Standard wrote last year was sent to you, or spent with you, or helped make possible better gasoline and oil for your car, you and practically everyone else in the West benefited. Thousands of merchants and professional people in hundreds of towns profited from the pay checks Standard Oilers spent. Our tax payments helped finance schools for your children, parks for vacationers, and bridges for motorists. Carpenters, steelmen, lumberjacks benefited from the facilities we built and the maintenance work we did. It all fits together: 1953 was a good year for Standard because so many of you thought our products well made and worth buying. And by making it a good year for us, you made it a good year for many others.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA
75 years of planning ahead to serve you better
