REFLECTIONS

THE REAL GOOD

There stands in Boston a statue of an Irish-American, John Boyle O'Reilly. This man had been arrested, sentenced to death, escaped, and landed in Boston penniless—but happy to be alive. Within his 46 year life-span he captured the hearts of his adopted city and acquired part ownership of the Boston Pilot.

He had a simple creed: "What is the real good, he asked in a musing mood, 'Order,' says the law court; 'Knowledge,' says the school; 'Truth,' says the wise man; 'Pleasure,' says the fool; 'Love,' says the maiden; 'Beauty,' says the page; 'Freedom,' says the dreamer; 'Home,' says the sage; 'Fame,' says the soldier; 'Equity,' claims the seer; Spake my heart, 'The answer is not here.' Then within his bosom, softly this he heard, 'Each heart holds the secret: Kindness is the word.'"

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST S. MARTIN (Miss Violet Eastburn), who exchanged wedding vows June 18 at the Blue Mt. Assembly of God at Walden, officiating clergyman was the Rev. Donald Anderson. They are living at Saginaw.

First Couple Weds In New Blue Mt. Assembly of God

By Mrs. Harry Castle

The new Assembly of God at Blue Mountain had its first wedding June 18 when Miss Violet Eastburn and Ernest S. Martin plighted their troth. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Donald Anderson, pastor of the church, at eight o'clock in the evening. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastburn and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martin, all of Cottage Grove.

Mr. Eastburn gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was of white satin with full floor-length skirt, bodice with Peter Pan collar edged with lace and three-quarter sleeves. Her fingertip nylon veil was trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and stephanotis. For "something borrowed" the bride carried a handkerchief that belonged to the bridegroom's mother.

Sister Attends Bride

Attendants were Miss Evelyn Eastburn, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, Miss Shirley Loyd and Miss Geneva Bettis, bridesmaids. Miss Eastburn wore a lime green nylon dress and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Miss Loyd wore blue nylon and carried pink rosebuds and Miss Bettis was attired in pink nylon and carried pink carnations, red and white sweet peas.

Ringbearer was David Eastburn, brother of the bride, and flower girl was Lillian Ann Maddox. Candlelighters were Florence Courtney and Mrs. Donald Anderson.

Albert Martin was best man for his brother and ushers were Richard Eastburn, brother of the bride, and Harold Davis.

The bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother, both wore gray dresses and pink rosebud corsages.

Roses, Calla Lilies Decorate

The couple exchanged wedding vows before an arch of red roses and greenery, and calla lilies and red roses decorated the church. Mrs. Corrine Davis played the wedding march. Mrs. G. W. Hocker sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Addalou Rough sang "Because."

The reception was held in the church, which was decorated with baskets of red roses. Mrs. Robert Brown cut the wedding cake and Mary Divas poured punch. Assisting in serving were Florence Courtney and Viola Jackson, while Dorothy Maddox passed the guest book.

For going away on their honeymoon, the bride wore a gray suit and pink rosebud corsage from her wedding bouquet. After a trip to Crater Lake and eastern Oregon, they are at home at Saginaw.

Grand Officers Visit; Girls to Grand Assembly
