Grove Town Team Loses to Lorane; Tops Barbers Thur.

Cottage Grove's town basketball team dropped a 41-29 decision to the Lorane quintet, but followed with a 49-34 victory over the 10th and Main Street Barbers of Springfield in a double-header at the Cottage Grove High school gym Thursday night.

The Lorane tilt might have been a different story had not two of the Grove's star players, Farnley Edwards and Bob Gerstenberger, been playing on their side because of a lack of enough players.

Cubs Club Creswell In 40-11 Tilt Tues.

Jefferson's Cubs club drubbed the Creswell grade school Tuesday night 40-11 at Cottage Grove's home court. McCoy paced the Grovers with 10 counters.

The contest, according to coach Pupke, was never very close after the first few minutes of play. CG potted four out of four field goal attempts in the opening minutes before Creswell could tally a counter.

Ball handling by the team as a whole was much improved over the inaugural contest with Pleasant Hill Friday. Coach Pupke, however, feels that the squad could move the pill a bit faster and make a higher percentage of the close-in shots.

The Cubs will host a "tough" Junction City crew Friday with the seventh grade tilt scheduled to start at 6:30.

And Shoulders Usually Neuritis Pains Through Arms

Pains through the shoulders and arms are usually more prevalent at this time of the year. This condition is a form of rheumatism known as neuritis which means nerve inflammation.

This can be attributed to sudden changes in temperature and humidity. The body and blood stream alters to meet these changing climatic conditions. Nerves that are sick or not up to par because of some mechanical irritation in the spine or some former injury to the nerve seem to be affected by these changes in the blood stream. Hidden infections also cause changes in the blood which irritate these sick nerves.

The chiropractor locates and adjusts the cause of irritated nerves and allows nature to heal them. Climatic conditions do not affect normal nerves.

Oregon Hiway Commission to Receive Bids on Lane-Douglas Projects Soon

SALEM—(Special)—The Oregon State Highway Commission will hold its next regular meeting in Portland on January 18 and 19. On the second day of this meeting, the Commission will receive bids on highway, bridge, roadside improvements, traffic signal installation and rock production projects estimated to cost $1,700,000, which includes a 310-foot reinforced concrete steel girder viaduct to carry London traffic over the main highway.

These projects include 12.18 miles of grading, 13.80 miles of rock base, 28.70 miles of shoulder oiling and 12.98 miles of paving. These projects also include construction of 11 bridges and furnishing of 56,900 cubic yards of crushed rock in stockpile.

Brief descriptions of the projects scheduled for contracting in Lane and Douglas counties are:

Lane County
On January 19, the State Highway Commission will receive bids on the construction of three structures on the Coast Fork Willamette River-Divide Unit of the Pacific Highway realignment. Besides the 310-foot reinforced concrete and steel girder viaduct to carry London Road traffic over the main highway will be an 80-foot reinforced concrete bridge over Martin Creek. The third will be approximately 173 feet long to carry Martin Creek Road over the main highway. The project is scheduled for completion by November, 1955.

The Commission will also receive bids on Jan. 19 for the grading and surfacing of 3.15 miles of the Eugene-Arcadia Road. Plans call for relocating the road from Hayden Bridge, about two miles northeast of Springfield, northerly to a point about a mile north of Mohawk. The new road will be located on the easterly side of the existing road and on new alignment throughout the project. The new roadway will be 36 feet wide and will have 12 inches of new stone surfacing placed thereon. The project is scheduled for completion by July, 1955.

On January 19, too, the State Highway Commission will receive bids on the construction of a 182-foot reinforced concrete bridge over Coyote Creek on the Territorial Highway, approximately 1 1/4 miles south of Crow. This is in conjunction with the grading and paving of the Crow-Gillespie Corner Section for which a contract was awarded in December, 1954. The bridge is scheduled for completion by September, 1955.

At its next regular meeting in Portland on January 19, the State Highway Commission will receive bids for paving four miles of the Pacific Highway. The section of highway to be paved under this contract extends from a point about seven miles south of Dillard to a point just north of the north city limits of Myrtle Creek. Plans call for construction of a two-lane asphalt concrete pavement throughout the project with four-lane pavement through traffic interchanges. Traffic channeling through interchanges is accomplished by use of traffic markers and islands in accordance with modern designs for primary highways. Grading of this section of highway is now under contract with paving work scheduled for completion by fall of 1955.

January 19, the State Highway Commission will also receive bids concrete deck girder grade separaon the construction of a reinforced structure 124 feet long on new alignment of the Pacific Highway, approximately two miles northwest of Myrtle Creek. The purpose of this structure is to serve as a traffic interchange between the Pacific Highway and Boomer Hill Road, eliminating cross traffic on the main highway. The structure is scheduled for completion by July, 1955.

Dr. Wilson, the chief speaker asked, "What purpose in finding someone we seek to honor?" and asserted any people would be poor, indeed, where we could not honor one.

God Expression of Virtue
Dr. Wilson declared that the civilization was largely the result of the kind of God the people worshipped. "God is the final expression of virtue in any society," he said. Closing his address he cautioned his hearers not to forget that achievement is accomplished as result of love.

When the senior and junior citizens were presented, George Drury, former member of the board of directors of the Senior Chamber presented Taylor Young, the outgoing president with a gift of a pen set as a token of esteem in which the board of directors held his services. Morris, 2nd vice president; Mike Siebert, secretary-treasurer; Jess Hill, Art Schaefer, C. W. Cothrell, Crip Morelock, Vinal Randall, Herman Petersen and Taylor Young.
