

Crocheters Ready For '55 Nationwide Crochet Contest

How would you react to the news that you were first prize winner in a Nationwide Contest? When you caught your breath, you would probably gasp, "You're kidding—you can't mean me." But it will be you. And this opportunity, wearing a crocheted glove, is once again knocking at needleworkers' doors and is advising all crocheters to "come to the Fair" with their entries for the 1955 Nationwide Crochet Contest. Over $3,000 in cash prizes, and free trips to New York City are the national awards offered in this exciting contest.

Anyone, but anyone, can be a winner in the 1955 Nationwide Crochet Contest. As in the past, this year's competition is open to all men, women and teen-age girls who are handy with the hook. Before you eagerly pick up your hook and cotton to start on your entry for the 1955 Nationwide Crochet Contest, be sure that you will be using mercerized crocheted cotton in a thread size of 100 or less, as the contest rules indicate. Mercerized crocheted cotton with a metallic strand is also eligible. Your entry must be completed, of course, since January 1, 1955.

The judges at the fair will award Nationwide Crochet Contest blue ribbons to the best piece in each of 16 classifications and a gold loving cup to the entry chosen "Best of Fair." These preliminary awards render the entries eligible for the final judging in New York City. No entry will be acceptable in the finals without this special blue ribbon.

Many Classifications
You may enter articles in any of the following classifications:
1.) Tablecloths, 2.) Bedspreads, 3.) Luncheon Cloths, 4.) Centerpieces (14" and over), 5.) Buffet & Vanity Sets, 6.) Chair Sets, 7.) Doilies (under 14"), 8.) Scarves

Dressing Up the Clotheslines

Monday's billowing wash needn't rob you of the use of your patio. You can screen off the clothesline with a simple yet attractive lattice fence at each end of the lines. This lattice screen can be built of western red cedar to match the yard fence. Climbing roses or other vines along the screens will make them even more effective so the hostess doesn't have to feel uncomfortable about a wash in full view. Inexpensive, these screens can be made decorative enough to add charm and interest to the landscaping.

and Wall Panels, 9.) Pot Holders & Hot Plate Mats, 10.) Place Mats, 11.) Other Household Accessories, 12.) Edgings & Insertions, 13.) Fashion Accessories, 14.) Ladies Over 65, 15.) Men Only, 16.) Teen-Age Girls.

The country's leading needlework authorities will make the final decision, which will be based on workmanship, beauty of design and general appearance. From among the hundreds of winning articles, three championship pieces will be selected, the crocheters of which will be named Grand National Champion, Men's Champion and Teen-Age Girl Champion. The Grand National Champion is entitled to a $500 cash award, the other two, $100 each. All three will receive free trips to New York City, where they will be escorted to glamorous night spots, theaters and restaurants, and will be guests on television and radio programs. Large engraved trophies will also be given to each as lasting mementos of their victories. Balance of the national prize money will be awarded to the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Honorable Mentions in each of the 16 classifications.

Special Awards
For those crocheters who are adept at originating their own designs, Smart Crochet Magazine is offering $600 in special awards. These awards will be presented to the crocheters of the best pieces of original design entered in the 1955 Nationwide Crochet Contest. Take advantage of this golden opportunity to prove your crocheting prowess. You may discover that your good fortune is just around the corner. But be sure to start your entry now so that it will be ready in time for the opening of the fair. For further information on entering your piece in the Western Oregon Exposition, contact the Secretary of the Fair, Jeanne Morton.

Electric Appliance Show Is Scheduled For Armory Soon

A Cottage Grove All-Electric Appliance Show will be held Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening, June 3 and 4, in the Cottage Grove Armory. Plans for the big event were completed last evening at a dinner meeting of appliance dealers from Cottage Grove and officials of Pacific Power & Light Company, sponsors of the show. Floyd Hilliker, local manager for Pacific Power & Light Company at the Cottage Grove office, served as toastmaster for the occasion and made known some of the show's highlights. Hilliker stated this would be the 14th such promotional activity sponsored by his company in cooperation with electric appliance dealers. C. A. Root, division sales manager for the Willamette area served by Pacific Power, presented a detailed resume of activities planned for the Cottage Grove show, which will include Polly Pacific cooking shows, stage shows with professional talent, appliance dealers exhibits, special prizes of small appliances and many other activities to be announced later. It is anticipated that approximately eight or more appliance dealers will participate in the show.
