COMMUNITY GROWTH NO ACCIDENT

The surest way to develop the local community and create permanent prosperity is to encourage and build a strong Chamber of Commerce.

Information that shows the individual his interest in productive enterprise is indispensable to the sound solution of questions that encourage the establishment or growth of industries and business.

That this philosophy is sound and has a direct bearing on the prosperity of every community, every business and every individual is evidenced by figures released by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States covering the period from 1940 to 1950. They show that for every 100 new industrial workers in nine counties surveyed by the Chamber, retail sales zoomed $360,000, personal income $590,000, and bank deposits $270,000.

An increase of 200 industrial workers meant 174 new jobs in other lines of work, 112 more households and a population increase of 296—new purchasers of all manner of goods and services. The survey covered a ten year period and was designed to measure the impact of new industry on local business.

The problems of industry are the problems of the people.

"FARM ACCIDENTS ON INCREASE"

You know, we think of a farm as one of the safest places in the world; in fact, in most cases, it is. So you might be more surprised to learn that according to the National Safety Council between 14,000 and 15,000 lives will be lost in farm accidents during the year 1955—if this year's death rate matches that of other years.

That's an appalling loss of life, isn't it? And what's more, another million and a quarter persons will be injured.

The National Safety Council says farming is the country's third most dangerous industry. Only mining and construction have a higher rate of work deaths, but agriculture actually leads in the total number of accidental work deaths.

This week is National Farm Safety Week, which runs from July 24th through July 30th. It's co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. And it's a mighty good time to give some extra thought to safety measures, whether you work on a farm or not.

Incidentally, farm accidents tend to happen most often during the late morning or afternoon hours when reflexes are most sluggish. That's why many safety experts recommend that rural workers borrow a leaf from their brothers in factories and offices and stop for a short coffee break around 10:30 and again at 3:30.

So when you feel yourself tiring, along toward the end of the morning and afternoon, take a break for a few minutes.

And while we're on the subject, here are some of the major unsafe acts which the National Safety Council says farmers should watch out for:

Failure to make regular safety inventories, taking shortcuts that cause accidents, using defective, unguarded or wrong equipment, inattention—daydreaming while working with heavy machinery or near hazardous work—improper animal handling, violating common-sense safety rules, and allowing children near dangerous machinery.

Many thanks for the copies of The Leader. A splendid newspaper job on the Centennial. I presume you must have had a plate made for the first page or had it offset.

The stories on pioneer history remind me of the arguments I stirred up in Cottage Grove and started a feature "Pioneer Footprints." If I were in C. G. now I probably would take the part the old pioneers took and suggest some corrections, such as in the name of the first postmaster. I certainly would add a few years to 40 given as the life of The Sentinel. I was editing it 44 years ago and it had been going for a considerable period before that. I wouldn't say, however, that the volume number shown on The Sentinel itself is correct. My recollection is that shows more than 60 years, which certainly is overstating the age. Compliments again, and long may the old sheet wave. Cordially, Elbert Bede

Dear Editor: A roster of ALL Oregon family associations is being prepared by the Genealogical forum of Portland.

The list will include the names of family groups having annual meetings, picnics and reunions. Information desired includes the name of ancestors concerned, date of arrival in Oregon, residence of family, any other data pertinent to the history of family, name and address of person designated to give information about family and date and location of annual meeting.

Persons interested in contributing to the roster are invited to send information to the address below. Thank you. Mrs. Anthony Thomas, 415 N. Baldwin Street, Portland 11, Oregon

Dear Editor: Recently parents in Oregon had the problem of sex crimes against children forcibly brought to their attention when a small boy was missing for several days, the victim of a sex deviate.

When a widely publicized crime of this type occurs, there is determination to "do something" to give our children better protection from such acts. Then the problem is forgotten until there is another dramatic example.

The fact that hundreds of such crimes occur each year in Oregon requires constant effort and study to alleviate the situation. For that purpose, the Children's Protective Association of Oregon was organized in 1952 and the hundreds of parents who belong to it have quietly and steadily studied the problem since that time.

Membership in the association is open to all who are interested. Dues are only $1. per year. The money is used to gather information and make it available to investigators, law enforcement officers and the general public, working toward a solution of the dangers that confront our children.

The interest of more out state parents is sought by the association which has its headquarters in Portland but is state-wide in coverage. During the months of July and August an effort is being made to give every parent an opportunity to join us in finding ways to cope with the sex offenders who seek out children.

Inquiries and memberships can be sent to the Children's Protective Association, Loyalty Building, Portland.

We thank you for publishing this letter in your newspaper. Ove Pearson Membership Chairman

Dear Editor: I wish to call to the attention of the citizens of Cottage Grove the somewhat unique relationship which exists between religious, civic and business groups in the city.

The willingness of Mr. C. C. Morelock to change his program at the Drive-In Theater this weekend at considerable personal expense is an excellent example of his personal interest in maintaining high moral standards in the community.

This is but one incident of the cooperation within the community to raise the standards of recreation.

Local Baseball Clubs End in 2-3 Record for Week

Cottage Grove's junior baseball teams came out with a two-win-three-loss record during the past week. Frank Divers' groups, the "Little League" and the "National League," were the winners, while Mel Fox's boys, the "American League" and "Peevees" lost three games between them.

The Little Leaguers dominated host Drain's 15 year-olds Friday by a 9-11 count, while Mel Fox's nine played practically the same crew and lost 1-0 the same day. On Saturday Grove's National Leaguers hosted the McKenzie Bums and came out on the long end of an 8-3 score.

CG's American League nine lost two close tilts in which they beat the opponent in every bracket but the scoreboard. Last Tuesday the V.F.W. nine of Eugene edged the locals 6-5 in the bottom of the last inning and Saturday the Eugene Elks nosed CG 11-10.

In the Elks contest Grove had 10 hits, including a triple by Wicks, to Eugene's 4. Cottage Grove belted 13 hits to 3 for Eugene in the V.F.W. contest, but still lost the game.

It was a nip and tuck battle. Eugene was held scoreless for the first three frames, while Grove tallied when Harris was hit home by Tonole's single. The locals nabbed two more when Mullen and Tonole were hit home by Seitz's double, but Eugene knotted the battle with three counters.

A home run by Hoover, plus a single, netted Cottage Grove two
