Open House Planned For Davis Anniversary

By Mrs. R. G. Conner

An open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. H. (Frank) Davis on their 60th wedding anniversary will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, October 23, in the parlors of Lorane Church of Christ.

Members of Lorane Ladies Aid Society and the Davis' daughter, Mrs. H. H. Cunningham, of Korbel, Calif., have planned the event. A short program will be given at 3 p.m.

The Davises were married at Lorane October 23, 1895, and have lived here since. He was the second white child born at Lorane and she was the daughter of an early-day storekeeper.

Then there was the shoe-shine boy who, when a customer remarked about the overcast day, said, "I ain't noticed. Been too busy shining!"

Reflections . . .

John Was Vindicated

John Aimes was Short Stop in a Babe Ruth League. The day was hot and John was thirsty, went to the soft drink stand, ordered a bottle of pop, laid two nickles on the counter. "It's a dime," the clerk barked. "I know it," John replied. "I gave you two nickles." The clerk angrily shook her finger, stormed. "You didn't. You're a cheap cheat," put the bottle back in the ice. John stood there, picked up his nickle. "I gave you two," he insisted, turned, called his Captain.

"If John told you he gave you two nickles, believe him," the Captain declared. "These boys are honorable." The lady looked on the floor, came up. "I found it. Here's a dime," John shook his head. "I gave you two nickles," he corrected and turned away. The lady emptied one carton, then another one, straightened smiled. "John, I'm sorry. Here's your nickle."

A boy's character is malleable. Give him the right associates, with positive training and he'll travel the road we indicate.

P. S. Honor, above all, is our creed.
