REFLECTIONS

Celebrate Boy Scout Week

More than 4,000,000 Scouts (Cubs, Scouts, Explorers and Scout Leaders) will celebrate during the week from February 6th to the 12th. Their slogan is, "Onward for God and My Country."

This group of young men are being taught the value of good citizenship, self-reliance and reward of helping others. Leadership in this organization is the most satisfying endeavor one can find; first, some of the principles rub off on the leader; second, he is working with malleable humanity, teaching, showing them by example what Americanism means in everyday living. He watches those boys develop into Eagles, into adults, take their places among men to further expand the principle of decent living, decent behavior, applying the doctrine of love, helpfulness and kindness to man and beast.

Show me a Scout and I'll show you a good citizen, now and all of his life.

Scouting is applied idealism. It has nothing for sale but character, no objective but the highest degree of citizenship. America will be what Boy Scouts make of it.

P. S. Our ideals of business was taken from Scout ideals.
