OLDER HOMES ARE EASY TO REMODEL

Nine out of ten of U. S. homes are framed with lumber. The West Coast Lumbermen's Association reports. Since many American homes are 50, 60 and 70 years old, modernization is needed. Remodelers find it easy to rewire and re-plumb these older frame houses because there is space in the frame walls to conceal these installations. Most of these older homes which were framed and built of Douglas fir lumber from the west coast are as sound as the day they were built. And, they are easily restyled without too much change to conform to modern home design.
