Donna Goodrich Bride of Ray Crane In Summer Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Donna LaDoris Goodrich became the bride of Raymond Crane at a candlelight ceremony performed July 14 in the Methodist church. The Rev. Fremont Paul officiated at the double-ring rite at 2 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Goodrich. The groom is the son of Mrs. Elgin Crane and the late Mr. Crane.

Arrangements of Shasta daisies, regal lilies, pink roses and blue delphinium in baskets tied with turquoise bows and white candles in candelabra decorated the church. Pews were marked with lilies and turquoise bows.

Mrs. Boyd Allen played organ music and Mrs. Robert Goodrich of Drain, bride's sister-in-law, sang "The Desert Song" and "The Wedding Prayer." Miss Ruth Ellen Cutlip of Elkton and Mrs. Goodrich sang "O Promise Me" as a duet.

The bride wore a dress of imported lace over satin, the bodice made with long, tapered sleeves. The skirt was of lace over satin in front, the back ending in a long satin train. Her fingertip veil, edged in French imported lace, was held by a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a prayerbook covered with lace over white satin and topped with a white orchid and pink rosebuds. Pink buds and lily-of-the-valley were tied into the white satin streamers. For "Something old" she wore a small gold leaf pin which had been worn by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Ferd Tracer, and now belongs to her cousin, Mrs. Lucille Bradt. "Something borrowed" was the string of pearls belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Eugene Walker, and "something new" a wrist watch, gift of the groom. Her father gave her in marriage.

Miss Peggy Jo Stitt of Myrtle Point was maid-of-honor. Her gown was of pink crystalline over taffeta, the ballerina skirt made with fullness at back. She wore a white lace Juliet cap and carried a nosegay of Esther Reed daisies with turquoise net and ribbon streamers.

Other attendants were Miss Eloyce Walker, Eugene, bride's cousin, and Miss Janie Haynes. Their gowns were in the same style as the maid-of-honor in turquoise shade. They wore Juliet caps and carried nosegays of Esther Reed daisies, with pink net and ribbon streamers.

Roberta Goodrich, Drain, bride's niece, and Karen Crane, the groom's sister, were flower girls, their floor-length dresses of rosebud-printed white nylon sashes tied in large bows. Their dresses were over pink taffeta. They wore Juliet caps and carried baskets of pink and white sweet peas.

Sherlene Goodrich, bride's small sister, carried a white satin pillow edged in lace with the rings on it. Her dress was like those of the flower girls and worn over turquoise taffeta with matching sash.

Bill Sandefur was best man; ushers were Robert Goodrich, Drain, bride's brother, and Gary Calavan, Eugene. Janie Haynes and Robert Goodrich lighted the candles.

Mrs. Goodrich wore a lavender nylon lace dress with small pink hat, pink accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. The groom's mother wore a gunmetal silk suit, small white hat, white accessories and pink rosebud corsage.

The wedding reception took place in the patio of the Goodrich home where summer flowers bloomed. Baskets of daisies and pink rhododendrons added to the decorations. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink with small turquoise bows at the sides. White candles in crystal holders were used on the table with the wedding cake. Over the table hung a large white wedding bell and ivy was entwined on the lights about the patio. Mrs. William Gardner, Salem, groom's aunt, cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Vern Goodrich, Yoncalla, bride's aunt, served at the punch bowl and Mrs. Eugene Walker, Eugene, another aunt, poured. Mrs. Lucille Bradt, Tacoma, Wash., bride's cousin, passed the groom's cake. Miss Judy Goodrich, Yoncalla, bride's cousin, was in charge of gifts and Miss Mero-dene Bradt, Tacoma, handled the guest book. Mrs. Elizabeth Romane, Eugene, had charge of the reception.

The couple made their wedding trip down the coast through the redwoods to San Francisco. For traveling the bride wore a beige suit with red hat and red accessories. She wore her wedding orchid. The couple will make their home in Eugene where the groom is employed. The bride is a 1956 graduate of Cottage Grove High school and the groom is a 1955 graduate of the same school.
