grades when she taught at Delight Valley and each of the children had her as second grade teacher at Latham. Mrs. Culver, who is teaching her 13th year at Latham, will complete her 35th year of teaching this spring. In the years Mr. and Mrs. Allen were in her classes she taught all eight grades but since she has been at Latham has taught only the second grade.—Clark Photo.

Rainbow Assemblies Host Grand Officer

Miss Alice Pitney, grand worthy advisor of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls made a visitation to the Cottage Grove and North Douglas Assemblies at the Masonic Temple Monday afternoon.

North Douglas Assembly presented the initiatory degree for four candidates, Glenda Westfall, Sheryl Booher, Judy Pitcher and Linda Lee. The local assembly balloted on candidates and was in charge of the opening and closing ceremonies and escorting.

Each assembly presented the grand worthy advisor with a gift of money and North Douglas assembly presented an addendum in her honor and presented its project money to her.

Other honored guests present were Mrs. John Martin of Eugene, grand deputy of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls; Miss A. V. Mathison, of Beaverton, grand representative to the state of Kansas in Oregon; Miss Janice Deeds of North Douglas assembly, grand representative to the state of Missouri in Oregon; Miss Sue Beckley, of North Douglas Assembly, past grand representative to the state of Nevada and past worthy advisor; Linda McClarnan, Vicki Malcolm and DeLoris Porter, past worthy advisors of Cottage Grove Assembly; Mrs. Ted Taylor of Elkton, mother advisor of N. D. Assembly; Mrs. Scott, past mother advisor of ND assembly; Mrs. Warren DeLaverne, worthy matron of North Star Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and Mr. Beckley, dad advisor of ND Assembly.

A reception was given for the grand worthy advisor after the meeting. The Misses Nita Kerr, Nina McCoy, Marlene Geer, Patty Daubenspeck and Barbara Bagley served refreshments. Assisting in furnishing refreshments were members of the Rainbow board which includes Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wicks, Mrs. Raymond Wilder, Mrs. Ruth Bradford, Mrs. Roy Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Wolff Allen, Mrs. Walter Calhoun, Mrs. William Gens, Mrs. Marvin Kerr, Mrs. Glenn Laverty, Mrs. Lawrence Porter and Mrs. William Sayles.

The temple was decorated for the occasion by Miss Lynn Porter.

CMA Presentation Due Saturday

The next Civic Music Association presentation will be Helen Hayes and Maurice Evans in "A Program for Two Players," at McArthur Court Saturday evening January 5, at 8 p.m.

Although Miss Hayes and Mr. Evans are the only two actors on the stage, many others have had a part in the production including three former University of Oregon drama students. The adaptation of the work is by Jerome Alden; the sets and costumes will be designed by Don Shirley and the stage manager will be Alan Foster. Because of this Miss Hayes writes to Arthur A. Bailey CMA president, that she and Mr. Evans are especially looking forward to their visit to the University of Oregon campus.

Admission is by CMA memberships or student body ticket only.
