HONOR GUARD NOTES.

Miss Belle Burkholder returned Sunday from Portland, where she attended the convention of the state Honor Guard. About 45 delegates were in attendance at the business meeting Saturday morning and about 150 attended the banquet at the Multnomah hotel at noon, at which prominent speakers addressed the assembly and Mrs. Lulu Dahl Miller sang. Later, reports of delegates were given on the mezzanine floor. The highway trip planned for Sunday had to be given up on account of the dedication of the Vista house, which called out such immense crowds that it was not thought feasible to have the Honor Guard try to go in a body. Miss Dohell, of Corvallis, was elected state leader to succeed Miss Lucille Danforth, of Portland. Miss Dohell will

United States Senator Chas. L. McNary

Because United States Senator Charles L. McNary has made good he should be nominated to succeed himself in the Republican primary, May 17th.

From the day he became Senator he has loyally championed the prosecution of the war, and during his term of office has accomplished more for Oregon than any other member in Congress in a like period.

Among his colleagues he is known as "the man on the job," and during the present war crisis Oregon should consider itself fortunate in having an opportunity to return him and not be compelled to send to Washington a new, untried man.

Believing that the supreme obligation he owes his country is to help win the war, Senator McNary, instead of returning to his State to conduct a political campaign, is at his post in Washington working for Oregon and aiding in the prosecution of the war.

Always since entering the Senate he has been a friend of our soldiers and sailors and has introduced legislation giving them preferential homestead rights and repeatedly championed their cause when their welfare was in jeopardy.

Championing the cause of the Oregon farmers, Senator McNary procured for them a primary wheat market, saving thereby several million dollars to the wheat growers of the Northwest.

Realizing the present Food Control Law fails to fix prices for many commodities, Senator McNary has introduced, and is laboring for the passage of a bill, striking at profiteering and fixing prices on the necessities of life. Senator McNary has procured:

Government contracts for the first time in the State's history for Oregon products, such as prunes, de-hydrated potatoes and vegetables in large quantities.

Large government contracts for factories for army clothing and shipbuilding yards and the lumber industry.

He procured space on British ships for the shipment of condensed milk and cream from Oregon condenseries, whereby the disaster which threatened this industry was averted.

Senator McNary is working:

For prompt payment of allotments to dependent relatives of our soldiers and sailors.

For the construction of a coast Military Highway at government expense.

For a comprehensive plan for the utilization of Oregon's water power resources.

Senator McNary was born on a farm in Oregon; reared in the Baptist church; educated in the public schools; worked his way through Stanford University; is a lawyer and farmer and has been a life-long Republican. He was formerly a Justice on the Supreme Court and later chairman of the State Republican Central Committee.

Space forbids us further enumeration of the vast amount of work Senator McNary has done for Oregon, but any one will realize from the foregoing that the Senator has displayed truly remarkable ability, coupled with extraordinary diligence and energy. His native state can best show its appreciation of his faithful and efficient services by nominating and electing him.

WRIST WATCH BEARS STORY OF GERMAN BARBARITIES

The Whitesburg (Va.) Mountain Eagle recently published the following: "A few days ago a young woman of Harlan, Ky., received a letter from her sweetheart, who is a prisoner of war in the hands of the Germans. With the letter he enclosed his wrist watch. The letter, in part, reads:

"Dearest: I am a prisoner in the hands of the German guards. They treat me very nice. They are a great people and will win the war, then I will return to you and the other dear ones at home."

"The young woman received the watch, but when wound it refused to run. Upon examination by a jeweler a piece of tissue paper, tightly rolled up, was found under the fly-wheel. Upon it was written:

"All that I have said in my letter is untrue. I am suffering untold agonies. They have cut off both ears, the end of my nose and otherwise seriously maiming me. You will never see me again. Goodbye, dear."

The Eagle comments: "Is it not enough to make the blood run cold? Is it not enough to fire the heart of every true American? Do we really love our country, our flag and our big souled boys on the other side in the camps? If so, let's turn ourselves loose to blot forever from the earth the perpetrators of such hellish deeds. The above records only one of the thousand such instances often more fiendish. Americans, Kentuckians, mountaineers, arouse to the task of hurling such devils into their rightful place—prepared for them from the beginning."

Eighth Grade Examinations

The uniform Eighth Grade examinations will be given in school districts where there are pupils to take the same, on Thursday and Friday, May 16 and 17, 1918, according to the schedule on the envelope in which the questions are sent to the chairman of the board. As Friday is primary election day, it may be necessary in districts where the primary election is held at the school house, for the examination to be held at a convenient nearby residence.

Teachers having pupils to take the examination should apply at once for questions.

County Superintendent.

A Business Should be as Big as Its Job

If bigness is of benefit to the public it should be commended.

The size of a business depends upon the needs which that business is called upon to serve. A business should be as big as its job. You do not drive tacks with a pile-driver—or piles with a tack-hammer.

Swift & Company's growth has been the natural and inevitable result of national and international needs.

Large-scale production and distribution are necessary to convert the live stock of the West into meat and by-products, and to distribute them over long distances to the consuming centers of the East and abroad.

Only an organization like that of Swift & Company, with its many packing plants, hundreds of distributing houses, and thousands of refrigerator cars, would have been able to handle the varying seasonal supplies of live stock and meet the present war emergency by supplying, without interruption:

First—The U. S. soldiers and the Allies in Europe by shipping as much as 800 carloads of meat products in a single week!

Second—The cantonments in the United States.

Third—The retailers upon whom the American public depends for its daily supply of meat.

But many people ask—Do producers and consumers pay too much for the complex service rendered?

Everyone, we believe, concedes the efficiency of the Swift & Company organization—in performing a big job in a big way at a minimum of expense.

Swift & Company's total profit in 1917 was less than 4 cents on each dollar of sales of meat and by-products. Elimination of this profit would have had practically no effect on live stock and meat prices.

Do you believe that this service can be rendered for less by any other conceivable method of organization or operation?

These questions and others are answered fully and frankly in the Swift & Company 1918 Year Book sent free on request.
