Fairbury, Nebr., News: A number of ar exchanges have been speculating on what would happen if the government took over the newspapers. Well, the first thing, the subscription price would raised about 50 per cent and the sheriff raised about 50 per cent and the sheriff would be kept busy chasing delinquents. The next step would be to raise the wages 25 per cent and editors who had not had a cent in six months they could call their own, would be placed on a salary. The merchants who fail to get their ad. copy in until press day would be hauled up before the council of defense and our linguyers may who hired fense and our linotype man who hired out for two weeks and quit his job in a week would be sent to Leavenworth for about 10 years as a deserter.
