CLEARANCE SALES

Of All War Time Merchandise Every Department in the Store

Like every truly patriotic merchant during the war period we stocked up heavily on those lines of goods that would appeal to the thrifty and economical man and woman. We bought carefully and bought right of all such things as were most practical and serviceable and mainly economical. With the return of peace times we find stocks require a complete re-adjustment of lines and varieties to meet the change in popular requirements. To make these great changes we must sacrifice heavily on many items, all of which are substantial staple goods that everyone needs.
