THE LOCAL PAPER AND THE MAN.

Portland Oregonian: Mr. Hornbrook has sold the Albany Democrat, and new men, capable and of experience, will do their best and succeed with it. There is, however, a lack of personality about the paper since Fred Nutting left it that mitigates. Personality counts for much in editorial writing and in the gathering and dissemination of news. Oregon is full of examples. One looks for it and finds it in Mr. Long's personal mentions of people from near-by and near-by in the Hillsboro Argus, as much as in Mr. Killens' discussion of heavier matters in his Independent.

Harry St. Clair's personality exudes in every issue of the Gresham Outlook, as does that of Mr. Dugger in the Seio Tribune. Nobody but a Woodward could run the Newberg Graphic and hold the subscription list, and as much may be said of Mr. Scott at Forest Grove.

Of Mr. Fisher, of the Capital Journal, the same might be said in compliment if one dares risk a bite. What would be the Fossil Journal without the Hon. Jim Stewart, or the Coos Bay dailies without the Maloney and O'Brien? Ford Baker has put his life into the Tillamook Headlight, just as Clark Wood in the Weston Leader, and nobody but a Humphrey can run a Jefferson Review or a Bede a Sentinel at Cottage Grove.

These are but a few names taken at random from scores of Oregon papers that show the value of individuality in the daily grind. The new men at Albany will make a go of it, for they are young and able; but they must make their own standing and make their names forget Mr. Nutting. At best anywhere it is a matter of "Sic transit gloria mundi."

HENRY ALBERS FOUND GUILTY OF SEDITION UTTERANCES BY FEDERAL JURY

Henry Albers, millionaire Portland miller was found guilty, in the federal court at Portland Wednesday, of sedition and disloyalty to the land of his adoption on two of seven counts in the indictment returned against him for violation of the espionage act.

The seditious utterances for which he was convicted covered such statements as "To hell with America" and "You'll never lick the kaiser," and were made on board a Southern Pacific train between Grants Pass and Cottage Grove as he was returning from a trip to California.

The maximum punishment provided by law is 20 years' imprisonment and a fine of $10,000 on each count, or 40 years' imprisonment and $20,000 fine, all told.

WOULD SAVE COUNTRY FROM MENACE OF UBUIQUITOUS AUTOMOBILE

The following "rules of the road" are said to have been adopted, somewhere or other, by the National Farmers' Anti-Automobile society:

Upon discovering an approaching team, the automobilist must stop offside and cover his machine with a blanket to correspond with the scenery.

The speed limit on country roads this year will be a secret, and the penalty for violation will be $10 for every mile an offender is caught going in excess of it.

In case an automobile makes a team run away, the penalty will be $50 for the first mile, $100 for the second, $200 for the third, etc., that the team runs, in addition to the usual damages.

On approaching a corner, where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, halloo, and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes.

Automobiles must be seasonably painted, so they will merge with the pastoral ensemble and not be startling. They must be green in spring, golden in summer, red in autumn, and white in winter.

Automobiles running on the country roads at night must send up a red rocket every mile, and wait ten minutes for the road to clear. They may then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting roman candles.

All members of the society will devote Sundays to chasing automobiles, shouting and shooting at them, making arrests and otherwise discouraging country touring on that day.

In case an automobile approaches a farmer's house when the roads are dusty, it will slow down to one mile an hour and the chauffeur will lay the dust in front of the house with a hand-sprinkler worked over the dashboard.

In case a horse will not pass an automobile, the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass.
