HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

There is nothing better than ammonia and water for removing grease spots from a carpet.

Tomatoes should always be skinned before being used for salad. To do this, place the fruit in a basin and pour boiling water upon it. You will find that the skin can be removed without any trouble.

Paint spilled on a doorstep is often difficult to remove. In that case, make a strong solution of potash and wash the spot, leaving the solution to soak in. In a short time the paint will become soft and can be washed off with soap and water. Even paint that has been left on for some time will yield to this treatment.

Before applying blacklead for polishing, make a pad of cloth and rub soot from the back of the grate or from the flues on all the greasy parts. The grate will then take the polish readily and much labor will be saved.

After first removing the cork from a bottle of glue, do not use it again, but in its place insert the stump of an old candle. It will never annoy you by sticking, and the glue cannot possibly spill.

If a cake is placed on a wet cloth when taken from the oven, it will slip out of the tin easily.

If a cauliflower is tied up in a piece of muslin it can, when cooked, easily be lifted from saucepan to colander with no risk of being broken.

Articles coming in contact with fly paper of the sticky sort may be cleansed by sponging with kerosene. Place the garment, or whatever it may be, in the open air and the odor will disappear.

Make your own furniture polish and it will be as good as the best that can be purchased. Take equal parts of turpentine, good cider vinegar and raw linseed oil, mix well together and bottle. Shake before using. Apply to your furniture, then rub with a chamois or with cheesecloth.

Silk stockings that have "runs" in them are almost worthless, especially for low shoes, for even after they are mended they are unsightly. To prevent these "runs" try this: Stitch a piece of tape around the top of the stocking on the inside, and then make regular buttonholes for the garter strap to fit into.

TESTED RECIPES.

Peanut Salad.
One pound of fresh roasted peanuts, one head of crisp lettuce. Wash the lettuce and crisp it in the refrigerator. Halve the nuts and pile them in the leaves of lettuce and dress with French dressing.

Nut Croquettes.
One cup chopped nuts, two cups boiled rice, one and one-half tablespoons olive oil or melted butter, a little salt and a pinch of sage; mix, shape in rolls, dip in beaten egg and crumbs; bake in a quick oven until brown and serve plain with onion sauce.

Bandits Get $2000 and Posse Pursues.

Roseburg, Ore., June 16.—Four men who visited Scottsburg in a big touring car held up and robbed an Austrian living down the river from Scottsburg, securing approximately $2000, and later the bandits encountered a posse as they returned by boat to the former place, and in a running fight that ensued one of the bandits was shot through the hips and badly wounded, and is under surgical care at the Scottsburg hotel.

The others got away, two of them reaching Drain, where they were apprehended and locked up. One of the pair was found to be suffering from several buckshot wounds in the back, received in the fight at Scottsburg. None of the stolen money was found upon them and they alleged the member of the gang yet uncaptured was in possession of the funds secured in their raid. Owing to imperfect telephone connections with Scottsburg only meager information could be obtained concerning the shooting. No names were obtainable.

Sheriff Quine and deputies are scouring the densely timbered country between Drain and Scottsburg in hope of discovering the fourth man implicated in the robbery.

Another version of the robbery alleges that it took place at the government rock crusher between Gardiner and Scottsburg, but the story could not be confirmed.

Children's Day Program at Methodist Church.

The special Children's day program, entitled "The Evanston College Bell," will be given at the Methodist church Sunday evening, June 22, at 8 o'clock. The program consists of songs and recitations, exercises and addresses. A large number of children will take part and the choir will assist. The offering will be applied to the loan fund of the board of education of the Methodist church. The money is loaned to students to assist them in securing an education.

The ideal husband and wife haven't been born yet.

An exchange speaks of the electoral college as the "electrical" college. Shocking!

Mars is another large body that is swinging around the circle. It will make no stops in this state, however, probably due to neglect on the part of the congressmen.

At a Chicago dressmakers' convention they are going to show all the different styles of feminine wearing apparel since the days of Eve. Peek-a-boo!

There can be no home where each member has a suite of rooms and servants to attend to every want. It is the rubbing together and performing thoughtful things for one another that makes a home.

Great Men of Small Stature.

Aristotle, who for 2,000 years held sway over the world of thought, was a slender man, with small eyes, a shrill, stammering speech. Athanasius, who at the council of Nice was the most potent spirit, was a man of very small stature—a dwarf rather than a man, but of almost angelic beauty of face and expression. Gregory VII, perhaps the mightiest of the Roman pontiffs, who dethroned sovereigns, was a diminutive man, and so were Canute and the great Conde. Voltaire, the literary autocrat of the eighteenth century, was one of the thinnest and most spectral of human beings. Robespierre and Marat, leaders of the French revolution, were far below the average stature. Robespierre was only five feet two or three inches, and Marat less than five feet. Napoleon Bonaparte was also a man of small stature.
