

Program at Arcade Theater

FRIDAY, OCT. 31—HALE HAMILTON in "His Brother's Place." Should Wall street methods be adopted by the church? See what one clergyman thought when this was suggested.

SATURDAY, NOV. 1—WM. S. HART in his new patriotic Artercraft photoplay, "The Border Wireless." This fine picture was directed by Mr. Hart himself, under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince. There is a strong love element in the picture which, viewed from every standpoint, is one of the finest photoplays in which Mr. Hart has ever appeared. We are sure all will be amply repaid who see this picture. The prices will be 10c and 25c.

SUNDAY, NOV. 2—WALLACE REID in "The Man from Funeral Range." It is one thing to be innocent, but it's quite another thing to prove it, particularly when a rascally lawyer finds it profitable to get your scalp.

MONDAY, NOV. 3—Here we have FRANK KEENAN for the first time in "The Long Chance." This photoplay visualizes the golden west. Let us all pay Keenan a visit this night.

TUESDAY, NOV. 4—BELLE BENNETT, a different kind of a vamp, in "Because of a Woman." This picture was taken at a typical southern home. The lonely telegraph operator mystery on Santa Fe. Come and see what it is.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 5—Cyclone Smith Adventure Stories featuring EDDIE POLO in "Plays Trumps." Also a two reel comedy, "Charlie From the Orient."

THURSDAY, NOV. 6—"RED GLOVE," seventh episode. It is not necessary to tell you that this is one of the best serials, for by this time you all know that it is.

FRIDAY, NOV. 7—This is our night of nights supreme.

We present MAY ALLISON in "Fair and Warmer." This play is right off the bat, having just recently been shown at Eugene. A happy combination is this presentation of the screen's daintiest, most delightful comedienne in the funniest farce Avery Hopwood ever wrote. This is one of Metro's specials. The prices will be 20c and 40c.

If you can't afford to subscribe for The Sentinel you can't afford not to read someone else's.

AMERICAN LEGION WEEKLY COLUMN

CALVIN T. FUNK POST NO. 32

In commemoration of the day which marked the close of the world's most horrible tragedy the governor of Oregon has proclaimed November 11 a legal holiday. On that day the lifeblood of the nations ceased to flow in a red torrent of ever increasing volume; Satanic might was made to bow on its knees before the invulnerable forces of right; the impotency of autocratic rule was made manifest to the world by the spectacle of the havoc it had wrought in the pathway of human progress throughout the ages. The echo of the last gun had hardly ceased to sound over the western front than the whole world burst forth in spontaneous celebration of the victory won. The wild, amazing joy of that day has no equal in history. The coming event will not be so loudly demonstrative, but the sincerity of feeling will be just as deep. Time will lend but dignity to the occasion.

The importance of our organization can not be too highly estimated and it is the duty of every eligible to become a member without delay or excuse.

OUR LOOKER-ON NOTICES

That the army slacker at the government bargain sales is the first to buy the clothes he was afraid to wear.

That American Legion Post No. 8 at Klamath Falls is a bunch of live ones.

That the eye is filled with wonder at the wild grace of an Oregon autumn.

That the bright days are numbered.

That we do not burn coal.

That some football players had a comfortable, easy time of it in the Argonne drive.

That the American Legion is a good cure for the lapsing of some official memories.

That in the rush of personal business we must not forget those long white rows of crosses that dot the battle fields of France.

The fact that a California livery horse slept for two weeks caused quite a lot of newspaper talk out west a short time ago. The fact that he woke at the end of that time would seem to be the peculiar part of the incident.

A "sucker" sometimes finds it hard to keep his head above water.

A man gets to the front sometimes by being shoved by those in the rear.

SOCIETY.

The junior endeavorers of the Christian church will hold a social party Saturday evening in the church parlors.

Albert Woodard, of this city, and Miss Lavilla Buell, of Falls City, were married Sunday at the bride's home. They will make their home here. Mr. Woodard recently returned from service with the Canadian Red Cross. Miss Buell formerly taught in the schools here. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Woodard, Mrs. Albert Hull and Mrs. John McCall, parents and sisters of Mr. Woodard, attended from here.

The ladies of the Methodist church were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Wright. The subject for the afternoon was "Hallowe'en." Mrs. J. H. Chambers read a paper upon the origin of the celebration and Mrs. Andrew Brund read a Hallowe'en poem. Mrs. Charles Beidler gave the paper upon current events. About twenty-five were present. Refreshments of sandwiches, "punkin" pie and coffee were served. Mrs. R. McCargar and Mrs. E. Widdersheim assisted with the serving.

The seniors and juniors of the high school are planning an elaborate Hallowe'en party for tonight at which the sophomores and freshmen will be guests.

Mr. and Mrs. DeLeur Hemenway entertained sixteen couples last evening in honor of their pearl (thirtieth) wedding anniversary. The diversion of the evening was "five hundred," refreshments being served at midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Hemenway have made their home here almost continuously and Mr. Hemenway now is the oldest merchant still actively engaged in business.

The LaComus club meets next Tuesday with Mrs. A. W. Kime.

The Constellation club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mrs. T. C. Wheeler assisting. A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served. A feature was the drawing for Christmas presents.

The M. P. G. club met Tuesday with Mrs. S. R. Smith. The decorations were in harmony with the Hallowe'en season and a "spook" opened the door for the guests. The favors and refreshments were also in harmony with the general scheme. Guests of the club were Mrs. F. L. Thompson, Mrs. J. T. Smith and Mrs. Charles Beidler. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Adams.

Mrs. K. K. Mills will entertain this evening with a Hallowe'en party for her niece, Mary Eleanor Mills, the occasion being her eleventh birthday anniversary. The house will be all "spooked" up for the occasion.

The Sunday Eugene Register gives the following extended notice of the wedding of Mentor Boney and Miss Georgia Kinsey:

A beautifully impressive church wedding was that of Miss Georgia Kinsey to Mentor Boney on Wednesday evening at 8:30 in the Baptist church. The only attendant of the bride was Miss Edna Elspass, of Portland, and the groom's only attendant was Merwin Irish, of Eugene. The marriage vows were taken at the altar where Rev. C. E. Dunham pronounced the words of the ring ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father, G. W. Kinsey. Virgil Powell, of Cottage Grove, at the organ, accompanied by Miss Gwendolen Lampshire, violinist, played the Lohengrin procession and the Mendelssohn recessional and just before the ceremony Miss Della Peterson sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." The bride wore a becoming suit of blue and small hat and her bouquet was a shower corsage of rosebuds, orchids and fern. The church decorations were a beautiful arrangement of pink dahlias in baskets, the handles caught with huge bows of pink tulle, and of white trailing clematis. Tall piano lamps added their glow against a background of greenery and pink tulle festooned the three arches behind the altar. A reception to which only a few friends were bidden was given at the home of the bride's parents. Icees were cut by Mrs. J. N. Rennie, who was assisted by Mrs. Loy Rowling, Mrs. Edith B. Linton, Miss Della Peterson, Miss Mae Gibson and Mrs.

Burt Ruth. Mr. and Mrs. Boney are spending a short honeymoon on the McKenzie and after November 1 will be at home at 1092 Tenth avenue west. Mrs. Boney was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1916 and for the past three years has taught in the Cottage Grove high school. Mr. Boney is a graduate of the William Jewell college, Missouri, and was a member of the marine corps during the war. At the close of the war he was in an officers' school in Quantico, Virginia.
