"STERLING" COMPOUNDED FEEDS

It is an undisputed fact that honestly and accurately compounded feeds give better results than any straight grain feed. When we started in this business we were thoroughly convinced that the public cares as much for quality as for price. Believing this, our motto has been "A Higher Feed Value for Less Money." And because we have constantly kept this in mind, "Sterling" Compounded Feeds are recognized as being all the name implies.

Our specialties are horse feed, hog feed, and dairy feed, for which we make the claim "There are none better."

Call and see us, and by comparing our prices with those of other compounded feeds, you will find opportunities and bargains here that you can't find anywhere else.

THINGS WE THINK

Things Others Think and What We Think of the Things Others Think

A person who sacrifices himself to leave the fruits of his toil to posterity is making two mistakes. He is not getting the enjoyments of life that he is entitled to and would appreciate and is giving them to those not entitled to them and who cannot fully appreciate them.

When they get it so a person at one end of a telephone line can see a picture of the person at the other end, central will see some funny things when she answers busy men who have been waiting about ten minutes to get their calls in.

A daily dispatch speaks of an Irishman who has made an unusual success of farming in North Dakota. We presume that the importance of this item is that it tends to prove that there are some Irishmen not serving on the police force.

A man with an iron will naturally has a temper.

A man with crowfeet on his face is not necessarily a bird.

No man is willing to die for a girl who is willing he should.

Tall people may have some excuse for being uppish at times.

A man never likes to be bought for a good price, and then given away.

Money talks—and carries a message of good cheer to the poor and needy.

We suppose there is such a thing as a "blown-in-the-bottle" prohibitionist.

An apostle of painless dentistry now accompanies his bill with an anesthetic.

You cannot make others happy without getting some pleasure out of it yourself.

Envy, like flame, blackens that which is above it and which it cannot reach.—Virgil.

Don't test the friendship of your acquaintances by boring them with your troubles.

A visitor from England says bread there only costs a third as much as it does here. He might have enlightened us still more if he had told us that American flour costs less there than it does at home.

It is said that Washington never told a lie—while Lincoln was always thinking up a story.

Old Adam must have been a bigamist because he married all the women there were in the world.

The man who succeeds is the one who directs the energies of those who can't succeed by themselves.

An exchange speaks of a prima donna with her singing halo on her. Wonder if she used it for a hobble?

Matrimony and alimony rhyme very nicely, but when the two mix they take the poetry out of married life.

If you're looking for trouble, inherit some money when there are a dozen other relatives expecting some of it.
