Every Street In Cottage Grove

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Sufferers Seek.

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Cottage Grove people recommend. Every street in Cottage Grove has its cases.

Here's one Cottage Grove man's experience.

Let J. H. Baker, prop. blacksmith shop, 912 west Main St., tell it. He says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills with benefit and am glad to endorse them. I was troubled with attacks of kidney trouble and my back was weak and lame. My kidneys annoyed me by their irregular action. Doan's Kidney Pills have always helped me when I used them for these ailments, strengthening my back and kidneys."

costumes were novel and grotesque in the extreme. Karl K. Mills, as the official "barker" or "bally-hoo" for the aggregation, kept things moving. There were the usual side shows, games of chance, pink lemonade, popcorn and ice cream stands. "Wampus" that passed anywhere was furnished all guests.

The Will Hall, G. M. Hall, H. A. Miller and A. W. Kime families held their bi-weekly covered dish dinner Tuesday evening at the Will Hall home.

N. McInturf. A generous thank offering was received. Dainty refreshments were served at tables cosily placed.

Mrs. M. P. Garoutte, assisted by Mrs. Earl Garoutte, entertained the LaComus club at her home on Pacific highway yesterday afternoon. Carnations and kewpies draped with ribbon in a color scheme of pink and white, formed a dainty setting for the dainty two course luncheon which followed a pleasant social afternoon. Guests present in addition to club members were Mrs. W. The Right of Way

In this greatest of Sir Gilbert Parker's stories—the one in fact that won for the eminent Canadian novelist his knight-hood—there is presented a story of unusual power. Revolving as the action does about the dashing, cynical character of "Beauty" Steele, the brilliant, dissipated, smartly dressed young lawyer of Montreal, there is presented in the story a vividness of dramatic incident, a swiftness and constantly unexpected change in the course of the lives of those involved, the tests of the love of two women—all with the picturesque and at times primitive background of the North Woods, whither fate and the results of Steele's personality bring him.

Little did the man know that the case he won against all the evidence and proof of the crown's prosecuting attorney, that of freeing Jo Portugais, a lumberman accused of murder, would affect his destiny. He had won the case for the sheer love of the legal battle—and because Kathleen was there to watch him. When the grateful prisoner came to thank him, Steele snarled: "Out of my sight, you're as guilty as hell."

The entire dramatic story is replete with such striking, stirring situations. Presented on the New York stage by Klaw & Erlanger, it made a tremendous and lasting hit. Given the more flexible and pictorial production the screen provides, "The Right of Way" is doubly striking, doubly colorful and tense.
