

ARCADE THEATER WEEKLY PROGRAM

Friday, May 21—"Should a Woman Tell?" by Alice Lake. A dramatic, intensely human story of a New England fisher girl faced with a problem of whether or not to reveal to the man she loved more than life, the secret of her youth.

Hearst News, showing how the submarines destroyed our ships on the high seas during the war.

Saturday, May 22—"True Heart Susie," a Griffith production.

"Hear 'Em Rave," by Herold Lloyd.

Sunday, May 23—"Something to Do," by Bryant Washburn.

"Mutt and Jeff in Iceland." Pathe Review, showing the different colors in pictures.

Monday, May 24—"Smashing Barriers," by William Duncan. See how he and the girl were rescued from the falling tree.

"Carmen of the North," by Anna Bos, called the Nazimova of Europe.

Tuesday, May 25—"One Against Many," by Anita King.

Wednesday, April 26—"The Haunted Bedroom," by Enid Bennett. The Haunted Bedroom will make the shivers go up and down your back to the tune of the Goblin Glide.

"Speed and Spunk," a comedy.

Thursday, April 27—"Wolves of the Night," by William Farnum. Another famous Farnum picture. Don't fail to see it.

Dollar Day Specials SATURDAY ONLY

Make your dollar do its goldrudest. It's your dollar. You have a right to do what you wish with it, but you will have more dollars to do what you wish with, if you make note of the Dollar Day Specials shown below and take advantage of the tremendous value to supply your meat wants. In the non-perishable goods, you would show financial genius by supplying your wants for some time to come. In the perishable goods, you should supply your immediate wants for several days in advance.

We are in business to make a profit, it is true, but we figure that small profits on each sale will bring the largest returns in the long run. The prices of these Dollar Day Specials are so low that you will readily recognize that we have not thought of profit. These specials are for advertising purposes, for we feel that those who get these bargains will remember us in a pleasant way that will result in the securing of their future business. To please our customers is our first aim. Read these prices, and smile—then buy:
