THINGS WE THINK

Things Others Think and What We Think of the Things Others Think

Join the sunshine club—it's great.

Sarcasm seldom gets a person anywhere.

Marriage and a cold are easily contracted.

It is better to exaggerate the truth than scandal.

It is hard to have a hot time without cold cash.

Love will do most anything. Have you been done?

Some people never get anywhere except into trouble.

Work never yet fagged anyone out as much as worry.

A woman feels old at 25 but thinks she is young at 50.

All men are not created equal—some are born newspapermen.

Women have the right idea—stay young as long as you can.

A person with sunshine in his face never has a sour disposition.

We know some folks who haven't sense enough to get brain fever.

A strong-minded person doesn't always have the healthiest intellect.

Give the children something to do. It will be better for all concerned.

Don't talk impudently to a dentist. He's apt to throw it back in your teeth.

Silence is golden—but one of the richest persons in the world is a woman.

The best kind of whisky is the kind which is so rotten that no one will drink it.

There are a lot of things we want to know that we're better off for not knowing.

No one has more kind words than you. Give them with a lavish hand. You will never miss them.

The middleman is not the one who gets squeezed—strange to say, it is the one at the end of the line.

A lot of people who claim to be in partnership with God act as if they owned the entire business.

The worst part of muck-raking is that it just stirs things up without clearing away the rubbish and refuse.

If everyone were satisfied with what he is entitled to, others would be dissatisfied because of not having their share.

Everything comes to her who waits. A New York maiden has become the fourth wife of her girlhood sweetheart.

The mean things you say are gradually forgotten, but the mean things you write may spring up any time to taunt you.

If a wife wants to keep a hubby traveling in the straight and narrow path, all she needs to do is to make him believe he talks in his sleep.

If the people who think they can run a newspaper had never been born, the march of civilization would not yet have crossed Long Island sound.

An egg 400 years old has been presented to the New York museum. We had heretofore believed that a museum was a place for exhibiting curiosities and things a person does not ordinarily see very frequently.

A woman who wears a bunch of rats and false hair can't deny that she has a soft place on her head.

When you are tired and fagged out or have the blues, a good, hearty laugh will do wonders. Try it.

A western crank who argued that all punishment for sins is meted out in this world, was burned to death in a fire the next night.

They tell us that when people get back to the land living will be cheaper. When we return to dust we won't care much what the cost of living is.

The cheaper grades of whisky are being used in motor engines in place of gasoline. The motor engines seem bound to keep going from bad to worse.

Too many folks are like the hen who not only is satisfied to have what she produces taken away from her, but advertises the fact that it is there to be taken.

A New York lunacy expert says that the ringing of church bells tends to increase insanity. It is important to learn that they have some effect on people.

A physician, now aged 81, says that when he gets to be 100 he will marry. If everybody went about getting married as gradually and with as much foresight as that, there would be very few unhappy marriages.

Household Hints

The easiest way to wind a skein of yarn is to place two flatirons on the kitchen table as far apart as the length of the skein and slip the yarn over them.

When the nap on a plush coat has become flattened, hang the coat in the bathroom, fill the tub with very hot water and let the coat steam thoroughly. Brush well, and the nap will stand up as when new.

Use newspapers to wipe greasy dishes. Makes a splendid fire lighter.

Dry coffee grounds are useful for cleaning knives.

Clean the sink with kerosene. Pour some down the sink spout. It cuts the grease.

Line the back and shelves around the sink with zinc. It will protect the woodwork and it will be easier to keep clean.

Pack yeast cakes in salt, leaving the wrappers on them. Several can be kept on hand in this way.

Lemon juice makes an excellent substitute for shoe polish. A few drops on either black or brown boots rubbed briskly will give an excellent polish.

To preserve cut flowers, add a pinch of salt and fresh water each day, and every other day cut a small piece from the ends of the stems.

Disolve powdered alum in hot water and use it in moistening stove blacking. It will impart a brilliant luster with less brushing and the stove will not rust.

Tested Recipes

Salmon With Macaroni—Grease a pie dish, line it with crumbs, then fill it with alternate layers of boiled macaroni moistened with hot milk and tinned salmon divided into flakes. Season each layer with pepper, salt and parsley or other herbs to be had. Half a pint of plain anchovy sauce should be poured over all. The top layer should consist of macaroni, well coated with crumbs. Pour a little butter over and bake until brown.

Cracker Pudding—Pour over eight crackers that have been split and buttered, one cup of hot water. Let stand five minutes; mix two-thirds cup of sugar with half a teaspoon of cinnamon and sprinkle over the crackers; sprinkle over this half a cup of raisins and add one pint of milk. Bake one hour. Serve with any soft or hard sauce.

Delicious Buns—Two quarts sweet milk, one cup shortening; beat together; heat together but do not boil; let cook till lukewarm, then add one compressed yeast cake and flour enough for sponge; let rise until light, then add a cupful of sugar and a tablespoon of salt, a teaspoon of cinnamon and cloves and a little nutmeg if liked. Let rise until light; form into buns.
