Household Hints

An easy way to drive out flies is to put about 20 drops of oil of lavender in a saucer and dilute it slightly with boiling water. The little pests hate it.

Many people will be glad to know that sulphur will rid their houses of rats. Sprinkle it in drawers, closets, and around holes where they are apt to come.

When tops of petticoats have become worn and the ruffle is still good, remove the ruffle and use for little girls' petticoats.

Much flour is saved and time also if shortcake biscuits are dropped into muffin pans instead of being rolled out. They also acquire, because of less handling, a more delicate lightness.

A piece of suet chopped fine and laid on top of a roast makes the meat nice and juicy.

When making coffee, if you like it clear, try breaking an egg into it, shell and all.

All traces of mud spots may be banished from garments by rubbing the goods with a raw potato.
