"STERLING" COMPOUNDED FEEDS

It is an undisputed fact that honestly and accurately compounded feeds give better results than any straight grain feed. When we started in this business we were thoroughly convinced that the public cares as much for quality as for price. Believing this, our motto has been "A Higher Feed Value—For Less Money." And because we have constantly kept this in mind, "Sterling" Compounded Feeds are recognized as being all the name implies.

Our specialties are horse feed, hog feed, and dairy feed, for which we make the claim "There are none better."

Call and see us, and by comparing our prices with those of other compounded feeds, you will find opportunities and bargains here that you can find anywhere else.

Miss Elise Scott, of Portland, is visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. A. Edlefsen.

Summer-Rest will remain open only one more week this season. Miss Wentworth says that a number of people were refused reservations for the summer because they were tubercular. She wants the public to know that Summer-Rest is not a sanitarium and no sick patients are admitted. It is a place whose name really is most applicable—a place in which to rest by change of scenes and environment. A number of friends have generously patronized the resort this year and a number who could not come have spoken and written many encouraging words of the plan to benefit humanity in this unique way. The greatest drawback the owner has encountered is the lack of good roads.

George Schneider is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. A. D. Addison is having a new well drilled.

The Lorane schools begin September 13. No high school teacher has yet been secured, and no teacher has been hired at the Cartwright school.

Fred Wentworth, of Eugene, spent the week end at Summer-Rest. His two children, Audrey and Dean, were with him and they are spending the week "in the hills among the tall trees."
