Don't Wait Till It's Too Late—Follow the Example of a Cottage Grove Citizen.

Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble may come. Often it indicates kidney weakness. If you neglect the kidneys' warning, look out for urinary disorders. This Cottage Grove citizen will show you how to go to the rescue. Mrs. George Young, 404 2nd St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for several years and consider them a good remedy. My kidneys were weak and I had attacks of backache and a soreness over my kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them as directed. They benefited me by strengthening my back and kidneys." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Young had. "STERLING" COMPOUNDED FEEDS
It is an undisputed fact that honestly and accurately compounded feeds give better results than any straight grain feed. When we started in this business we were thoroughly convinced that the public cares as much for quality as for price. Believing this, our motto has been "A Higher Feed Value—For Less Money." And because we have constantly kept this in mind, "Sterling" Compounded Feeds are recognized as being all the name implies. Our specialties are horse feed, hog feed, and dairy feed, for which we make the claim "There are none better." Call and see us, and by comparing our prices with those of other compounded feeds, you will find opportunities and bargains here that you can't find anywhere else.

ANTI-COMPULSORY VACCINATION

Three centuries have passed since religious oppression in England forced a few brave souls to cross the Atlantic in search of a place where they might worship their God as they saw fit. This venture is monument to the day when men and women began in earnest to break the shackles of mental and physical bondage, and from those few, and others who later came, sprang a great people, a great nation, and a great flag.

Since then oppressions of many kinds have touched us, and one by one they are being rejected as out of keeping with the principles of our Government. Today a business enterprise whose very existence depends upon the act of vaccination, is endeavoring to force this operation on the people of Oregon. Whether vaccination is a guarantee against smallpox, or whether it is a key to the door for admitting worse diseases, are questions which are beyond argument. There is no longer any doubt in the unprejudiced mind that as a preventive of smallpox vaccination is a decided failure. But it is a well conceded fact that as a distributor and trader of disease vaccination is in Class A-1. If statistics are not convincing, there are plenty of living testimonials.

A measure known as the Anti-Compulsory Vaccination Measure is to be voted on by the people of Oregon on November 2nd, 1920. It reads as follows: "No form of vaccination, inoculation or other medication, shall be made a condition in this state for admission to, or attendance in, any public school, college, university or other educational institution; or for the employment of any person in any capacity, or for the exercise of any right, the performance of any duty, or the enjoyment of any privilege."

Please note that it states very clearly that it prohibits Compulsory Vaccination and does not prohibit vaccination. Indeed, we insist that if anyone believes that vaccination will save him from smallpox that it is well within his rights to try this experiment on himself, but we are equally insistent in maintaining that his rights stop there. We do deny anyone's right to force this thing upon unwilling people with no better reason than dollars and cents.

I say dollars and cents because the people who are fighting for compulsory vaccination are financially interested in the business of vaccination. Every little while they report improvement in their system of preventing smallpox. This in itself is an admission that the manner in which they had been practicing it was not correct. But they tell us the system is perfect now; everyone should use it, and they are even willing to go on improving this perfect system for our benefit and at our expense, but no other system must be offered as a cure or preventive of smallpox. The scratch and patch method is supreme. Now we say that this is not for it is unreasonable as trying to force one brand of religion into every consciousness. If you want to retain your bodily rights, as well as your thinking rights, by all means remember these facts when you mark your ballot.

This measure will not prevent anyone from having the kind of medication that he desires, nor will it prevent quarantining or the enforcement of sanitary measures, but it will prevent one of the most perfect business organizations in the country from forcing its goods on the people of Oregon.

ORGANIZATION STARTS FOR SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS

The Oregon Tuberculosis association, under the direction of the executive secretary, Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar, is organizing its forces throughout the state for the annual sale of Christmas seals. Robert W. Osborn, who has just conducted a tuberculosis survey of eastern Oregon, has been named seal sale director and is already in the field building up an organization for what the association hopes will be the biggest and most successful sale yet held in the state.

The budget of the Oregon Tuberculosis association for use in 1921 is $35,000 and through the sale of the Christmas seals at one cent each this sum will be sought. This means a sale of five seals per capita if the work of the association is to be continued along its established lines. If a sum less than this is raised it will mean the sacrificing of some part of the vital educational, demonstration and experimental work.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE ON EXECUTION IN FORECLOSURE.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution and order of sale in foreclosure issued out of the Circuit Court of Lane County, Oregon, on the 11th day of October, 1920, in a suit wherein on the 14th day of September, 1920, in said Court, Frank Knox, as administrator of the estate of S. C. Counts, deceased, as plaintiff, recovered judgment against the defendants, G. F. King and Ida C. King, for the sum of $1917.28, together with interest thereon from the 14th day of September, 1920, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum and $75.00 attorney's fees, and the further sum of $29.00 as costs of this suit and accruing costs, which judgment was entered and docketed in the Clerk's office of said Court in said County on the 14th day of September, 1920, and said execution to me directed commanding me in the name of the State of Oregon, in order to satisfy said judgment, interest, attorney's fees, costs of suit and accruing costs to sell the following described real property to-wit:

All of Lots numbered thirty-seven and thirty-eight, on Cedar Park, as Platted and Filed in Lane County, Oregon; also, one-eighth of one cubic foot of water per second per acre under Water Permit No. 94 issued by the State of Oregon, together with the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging or in any wise appertaining.

Now therefore in the name of the State of Oregon, in compliance with said execution and order of sale and in order to satisfy said judgment, interest, attorney's fees, costs of suit and accruing costs, I will on Saturday, the 13th day of November, 1920, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon of said day at the southwest front door of the County Court House in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, offer for sale and sell for cash, at public auction, subject to redemption as provided by law, all of the right, title and interest of said defendants, G. F. King and Ida C. King, and L. M. Travis and Lillian Travis, his wife, and all persons claiming by, through or under them or any of them in and to said premises.

An Appeal to The Voters of Oregon

The Port of Portland Dock Commission Consolidation Bill on the state ballot should be defeated. While it no doubt affects the whole state in some degree, the enormous expense which it will create must be borne by the taxpayers of the Port of Portland, which contains 209 square miles, or less than one quarter of one per cent of the area of the state. The Chamber of Commerce, the Taxpayers' League and other Portland organizations and many representative business men have joined hands to acquaint the voters of Oregon with the facts and to enlist their opposition to the measure.

The scheme of improvement proposed by the bill will cost $40,000,000. As a starter, $16,500,000 of bonds are authorized. In violation of the home rule provision of the Constitution of Oregon, the voters of the Port of Portland are denied the right to say how large a debt they are willing to assume. Nor are they given a voice in the selection of the commissioners who are to assume. Nor are they given a voice in for them to pay and manage their business.

The electors of the territory within the Port of Portland are better qualified than any one else to judge of the amount of bonded debt they should authorize or the taxes they should pay. Their liberality in assuming burdens of public improvement, not only for themselves, but for the state at large, will not be questioned by any one who will scan the record of the huge total of bonds they are now carrying, amounting in round figures to $34,000,000. It cannot be thought that the state will be the gainer by imposing upon its chief city the insupportable load of additional debt contemplated by the pending bill.

The sponsors of the Port of Portland bill have openly appealed to the electors of the state at large to vote for it on the ground that it will cost them nothing. This is log rolling of the most dangerous type. If such methods are to prevail in behalf of direct legislation, no county, city, port or other municipal corporation in the state will be safe from having intolerable debts and taxes foisted upon it by indifferent voters from other parts of the state. Bills like this must be rejected by the voters if home rule is to retain its vital force. Home rule and such bills cannot survive together. One or the other must fall.

The voters of the Port of Portland are not asking to be relieved of their responsibility to create and maintain the necessary facilities for ocean commerce. They desire only that they be given a voice in the management of their affairs and that, through the established processes of law, they be permitted to adopt a plan of port development which will not load millions of dollars of debt upon them.

The Telephone Situation

In the engineering of a telephone plant—switchboards, conduits, cables, pole lines and general mechanical equipment—we have always tried to anticipate the growth of a community and provide therefor by advance construction. This course has enabled us to more promptly comply with requirements for service with better construction and at an ultimate expense less than that involved in waiting to meet demands as they arise.

In the war period we were unable to maintain this reserve plant, as the very things we needed for telephone purposes were required and necessarily taken for government purposes. The demand for telephone service did not decrease and our reserve facilities were practically absorbed in meeting it.

As every business man knows, the problems of reconstruction following the war have been acute and prolonged to an entirely unexpected degree. Unusual conditions are prevalent throughout the entire manufacturing, mercantile and social world. The telephone industry has had to meet all the difficulties and handicaps of retarded production, distribution and transportation.

This advertisement is not meant to be one of apology, but one of explanation and even accomplishment. In the face of an unprecedented demand for telephone service in the last few months, hampered by the exhaustion of our reserve plant and difficulty in securing materials, we have added more telephones thus far this year in the state of Oregon than in any similar period of telephone history.

In the state of Oregon, in the eight months ending August 31, we have added 6863 telephones. In the eight months ending July 31, 1917—before the war—we gained 2655 telephones.

In the state of Oregon we have approximately 2600 unfilled applications for telephone service. A similar situation exists all over the United States. We will continue to secure all the equipment possible, and the desires of the public will be met as soon as it is humanly possible to do so.

The Telephone Company regrets the inconvenience to prospective subscribers. It is as anxious to give service as the patron is to receive it. The Company is doing all in its power to remedy conditions and furnish service in accordance with normal standards.
