

The hardest part of a vacation is getting rested up afterwards while trying to catch up with the work neglected during your absence.

If the good news we hear had no more foundation than our suspicions, this would be a sorry old world.

A great number of folks boiler hard luck when the same amount of energy properly directed would bring good luck.

Probably most married men would like to try being bachelors again for a short while—just to see how much they would miss their wives. The chances are that if their wives caught them in that condition they would make it permanent.

If there weren't a lot of suckers in this old world a lot of other people would starve to death.

It's nice to be able to say, "When I've got anything to say, I spit it right out," but the person who does that is likely to find that those who have anything to say to him follow his example.

Even when a man marries a belle he has to furnish the ring.

A blockhead might easily be level-headed.

KITTLE RIDGE.

Kittle Ridge, Dec. 14.—As Sid Po dunk and family were driving to the Grove Friday Riley Bowersox passed them in his bug going at a fast rate. Scared Sid's team and they started to run, throwing Fayette, and her twin sister, Zayletta, backwards into a coop of turkeys. No one was seriously hurt.

The Kittle Ridge debating society had a rousing big time last Wednesday evening. Subject debated, "Resolved, that salutaris is more beneficial to mankind than cream of tartar." Elder Molebored has been holding meetings at the church for over a week. He has flayed the devil fore and aft—got several so scared they came forward on the run. ## An Appeal

To the Republicans of the Country and All Those Who Aided Them:

The Republican success in the 1920 election has been commensurate with the quality of our candidates and the righteousness of our cause.

This success is the partnership accomplishment of all Republicans everywhere and of hundreds of thousands of well-wishers of good government regardless of past party affiliations.

To all of these we now appeal, because it is the mutual responsibility of us all who will share alike in the consequent mutual benefit of good government.

The plan of limiting campaign contributions to $1,000, adopted by your national organization, has left your party unmortgaged.

It has been a most advanced step in placing the business of politics on the highest plane, and has brought an interest on the part of thousands who never before have been concerned with politics.

Some weeks before election it was apparent that the expenses provided for in our budget, with the strictest economy, would exceed the contributions, but we were unwilling either to leave undone any legitimate effort essential to complete success or to change the method of raising money. We were then sure and we are now sure that every Republican desires that the expenses of the campaign be distributed in this manner.

Your presidential campaign this year cost no more than that of 1916, when a dollar went nearly twice as far as it does today.

Four years ago the bulk of the campaign fund came from 750 contributors, while this year the approximately $2,000,000 contributed to date for the presidential election has come from 50,000 givers.

The victory won, the raising of the deficit would be easy, indeed, if your committee were willing to abandon the policy of keeping down the average of contribution. This we are determined not to do. It was a fight of all the people. The result speaks for itself. It lifted a burden from the minds of millions and points the way to better and happier days. We ask now for that additional help from all which is merited both by the successful conclusion of the effort and by the consequent contribution to the welfare of all of our people and the glory of the nation.

Let us now have help from every American who is grateful for the victory and all that it means to the country. It might well be in the nature of a thanksgiving offering for the return to a certainly safe, sane, constitutional progressive government.

Let us by general and generous giving put the seal of approval upon the policy of putting a national administration in power free from any possible embarrassment of special obligation to any man, men or group of men. Let us make the contribution, whether large or small, and whether or not we have heretofore given, commensurate with our means and our appreciation, always within the maximum limit heretofore fixed.

Let us get our names on the cornerstone of a sturdier political structure, upon the roll of those who have helped make possible a campaign of which, in methods and result, we may as Republicans and patriots be justly proud.

Most earnestly we urge that this aid be given quickly, that your committee may be enabled to discharge the party's obligations and turn to further constructive work in behalf of party and country.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE, Will H. Hays, Chairman.

Checks should be made payable to Fred W. Upham, Treasurer, or James G. Blaine, Jr., Eastern Treasurer, and sent to the Committee's Office, 19 West 44th Street, New York City, N. Y.

The Daylight Store for Quality and Service

Lots of people lie better standing up.

It's a funny thing that if you hear the clock strike in the night it is always the half hour gone and you go back to sleep while listening for the hour.

There are very few things that are really very hard to do. The hard part is screwing up your courage to the point of tackling them.

When a busy man has been summoned as a juror and is making the best of a poor situation by trying to believe that he is performing his patriotic duty (and is getting about one-fifth of what his time is worth) he can hardly be blamed for wanting to shoot the pettifogging lawyer who wastes a half day wrangling over a jury for a case that hasn't any more business in court than a blind man has in a society woman's boudoir.

Just about the time you get yourself broke to a certain diet the neighbors bring in things that you have no business eating.
